Several Injured In Battle During Dominican Riot

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Police armed with semiautomatic rifles, water hoses and tear gas clashed with hundreds of rock-hurling rioters Friday. It was the bloodiest outbreak of street fighting here since the assassination of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo May 30.

Steel-helmeted police attacked in a downtown section of the capital city where angry youths had been roaming the streets during the day carrying rocks and pieces of metal.

Police headquarters said about 50 persons were arrested in the fighting and a further roundup was under way.

MANY WOUNDED
At least 20 bleeding and weeping captives, including women and boys barely in their teens, were led from the scene but there were no official figures on civilian casualties. A police spokesman said at least 15 of his men had been hurt.

Among the wounded was a woman with a child in her arms. Both were bleeding from head injuries. It was the fifth straight day of antigovernment violence in the Caribbean island nation and the climax of spreading unrest touched off five days ago by students at Santo Domingo University.

The fighting burst out in the same area where youths attacked police Thursday night with showers of stones hurled from rooftops. Police moved in after several hundred youths and older persons marched down a main street shouting, "Liberty! Liberty!" The rioters took over a two-block area, sealed off all traffic and stoned a police car.

A car carrying the vice president of the official government party, Ernesto Rubirosa, was hit several times by rocks and forced to flee. Dominicans by the thousands jammed side streets, shouting encouragement to the stone throwers. Police drove back the demonstrators and seized control. Four

New Parcel Post Rates Hike Slated

Day Announces Plan Subject To Approval By ICC

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General J. Edward Day announced Friday a plan to raise parcel post rates by about 6 percent, revise size and weight limits on parcels, and boost mail catalog rates by 13.8 percent.

Subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission, this would be another step in the Post Office Department campaign to reduce its annual deficit of about $640 million. The proposal would net an estimated $95 million.

ASKED CONGRESS
Day asked Congress earlier this year to offset half the deficit by raising first, second and third class mail rates. He also sought a $235-million bookkeeping allowance for some of the department's nonpostal functions, like issuing migratory bird stamps and taking animal herd censuses.

A House committee approved a scaled-down version of the proposal but no floor action was taken before Congress adjourned. Day notified the ICC last April 27 that he intended to submit specific proposals on rate increases. The tentative revisions are being announced now, he said, "to allow interested parties to present their views on the proposals before submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The last parcel post increase averaged 7.1 per cent and became effective Feb. 1, 1960, after opposition by business and industry and a year of hearings and consideration by the ICC.

Postal laws require the postmaster general to get ICC approval to increase parcel post weights. The law also requires that parcel post revenues and expenses must not differ by more than 4 per cent.

Revenues from the service probably total just under $582 million this year, meaning an $80-million deficit, postal officials said. Under the proposed rate revision the maximum increase for handling a parcel mailed within an 1,800-mile radius would be 6 cents. Beyond this the maximum

Skeletons Of Five Babies Are Found

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (AP)—The bones of five babies were discovered Thursday night and Friday in the basement of a shabby home.

Police, unable to give any immediate explanation of the grisly find, planned to dig further in the refuse and dirt under the single-story unpartitioned dwelling.

Authorities started to trace several families who had lived in the house in recent years. Remains of the infants were sent to the state police laboratory in Indianapolis for detailed examination.

Jack Lewallen, a construction worker who moved into the house seven months ago, reported finding the first skeleton Thursday night while cleaning up the dirt floor cellar.

U.N. Appeal Is Asked On Soviet Blast

Seven Countries Urge Bid To Halt 50-Megaton Test

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Seven countries asked the United Nations Friday to issue a "solemn appeal" to Russia to call off its plan to touch off a 50-megaton nuclear device, the greatest explosion of the atomic age.

Despite a warning by Canadian external affairs secretary Howard C. Green that the blast, equalling 50,000,000 tons of TNT, might come this weekend, the General Assembly's 101-nation main political committee adjourned until Monday without taking action.

VOTE RESOLUTION
Its companion special political committee, however, approved by a 73-0 vote a resolution sponsored by Canada and 24 other countries expressing deep concern about radioactive fallout from the Soviet nuclear test series started Sept. 1 and continued with another blast Friday.

The 25-power resolution also suggested a study of the possibility of setting up a worldwide meteorological reporting system to measure radioactivity in the atmosphere.

Seventeen countries abstained on the radioactivity resolution, including the Soviet Bloc, Cuba and several Afro-Asian powers.

Per C. Haekkerup of Denmark, speaking also for Canada, Iceland, Japan, Norway and Sweden, introduced in the General Assembly's Main Political Committee a resolution expressing concern about Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's announced intention to explode the equivalent of 50,000 million tons of TNT by Oct. 31.

Haekkerup spoke after British delegate Sir Michael Wright charged that Russia is using self-created tension to block agreement on a permanent nuclear weapons test ban.

Wright, as did U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson Thursday, rejected India's proposal for immediate renewal of an unexpired moratorium on nuclear weapons.

Army Plans For GIs To Tour Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top-ranking Army enlisted men in various European posts will get one-day tours of Berlin, including a visit to East Berlin, starting next Tuesday, Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., said Friday.

Such tours have been made regularly for some time by troops stationed in the divided city. Becker, a member of the House Armed Services Committee said he was advised of the new program, called "Operation Look-see," by Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe.

The purpose, Becker said, is to familiarize the top sergeants with "aspects of the cold war." He quoted Clarke as saying the sergeants from various European posts will visit Berlin in groups of about 30 to "have a look at the barricades and the fence that surrounds West Berlin, receive briefings on the Berlin situation and to make a tour of East Berlin."

Becker, who recently returned from a tour of Army bases in Europe, said he suggested the idea to Clarke.

opening between the building foundation and the floor above.

Police conducted a further search Friday and turned up four more skeletons—one in a metal box, another in suitcase and two more in piles of trash. Two other skeletons turned out to be bones of a dog and a cat.

Coroner John Whitaker said it appeared the remains were several years old, but they were too decomposed to determine immediately the cause of death.

Police Chief Ray Newsum said the skeletons looked to him like the remains of full-term infants and not the results of abortions.

The house, some of its windows broken, is situated near the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks south of the Depue campus.

It is owned by Mary Moore, a spinster in her 90s who is now an invalid in a nursing home near Greencastle.

Bonn Chiefs Agree Upon New Regime Adenauer Is Due To Retain Post Of Chancellor

BONN (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Friday reached long-awaited agreement with Free Democratic Party Leader Erich Mende on the policy and composition of a new West German coalition government.

Spokesmen for both parties announced after an almost three-hour long secret bargaining session that the two men attained agreement "on a coalition contract and a cabinet list."

KEEPS POST
Adenauer, 85, will head the new government as foreseen under the agreement, authoritative party officials said.

In return, Adenauer offered to let a Free Democrat head a newly-created ministry for European affairs, informed sources said.

The new ministry will be offered to Free Democrat Walter Scheel, a 42-year-old economics expert and European Coal and Steel Community representative, the sources said. It is expected to be a clearing house for all European questions such as European parliament issues, the common market, Euratom and similar institutions.

Before the agreement actually can result in presentation of a new government — pressed for both by Bonn's western allies and by public opinion at home — it must be approved by the Free Democratic National Committee which meets in Bonn Saturday.

Mende is unwilling to bind his entire party to the agreement, informed sources said. He wants national committee approval first in view of persisting opposition among some party members against joining a coalition under Adenauer.

Adenauer now is acting chancellor. In the Sept. 17 elections only parliamentary deputies were chosen. It is the duty of President Heinrich Lübke to nominate the next chancellor, and parliament's duty to elect him.

If the Free Democratic national committee approves Mende's decision, parliament will be able to elect Adenauer as chancellor next week and the cabinet can be presented shortly after.

Mende wants Adenauer to retire by the middle of 1963, informed sources said. It was not known if Adenauer agreed to this condition.

U.S. Economy Hits New High Past Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said Friday the national economy moved to a record high in the July-September quarter, but the three-month gain was not nearly as spectacular as in the April-June period.

The Senate-House Economic Committee said the value of all goods and services produced during the third quarter—the gross national product—was at an annual rate of $326 billion. This represented a gain of $9.1 billion over the second quarter level of $316.9 billion.

By comparison, the increase between the first and second quarters, as recovery from the recession got under way, was $15.3 billion.

The July-September total of $326 billion was in line with an estimate made about a month ago by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Frost Predicted For Twin Cities

Area residents may see the first frost of the late winter Saturday morning in some exposed places.

The outlook for Saturday shows fair and cool through the night. The high predicted is to range from 70 to 74 degrees.

The high for yesterday was 69 degrees and the low was 38 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies were accompanied by cool temperatures.

U.S., British Will Resume Soviet Talks

LONDON (UPI)—The United States and Britain intend to resume exploratory talks with the Russians on East-West peace prospects, with or without the approval of France, authoritative diplomatic sources said Friday.

The conferences are expected to begin in Moscow by the end of the month.

NO PROGRESS
The first round, which included talks by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko with President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in Washington and London, ended in no progress.

Both sides stood firm on their positions on Berlin, Germany and other East-West cold war issues. The sources said British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts would return to Moscow with instructions to "support" U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson in the probing operations on chances for negotiations for a Berlin settlement.

It was explained the talks would not commit the Western allied powers to any definitive action or a Berlin settlement. Such a settlement, the sources said, would be sought only in the closest alignment with France and West Germany.

One new consideration is the fact that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev said he would drop his year-end deadline for a unilateral peace treaty with East Germany if there are prospects for East-West negotiations.

RAYVILLE — Fate dealt strange hands in life and death on a table of pavement, U.S. Highway 80, between Rayville and Start Friday. A man crashed to his death into a power pole in a single-vehicle collision and occupants of three autos involved in a bizarre mishap all escaped safe and sound a short distance down the highway.

Infant Placed In Hot Stove Is Near Death

NEW YORK AP — A 14-year-old girl put her baby sister in an oven in a childish prank Friday, not realizing the stove still was hot from earlier use, police said.

The victim, Yvonne Hardy 19 months, was in Lincoln Hospital suffering from first, second and third-degree burns and dehydration. She was not expected to live.

Police said the baby was placed in the oven by her sister, Jewell, who was caring for Yvonne and four other children while their mother was absent from their Bronx apartment. The mother is separated from her husband.

Detective Stephen McCabe said Jewell picked up the baby and said playfully, "I'm going to cook you."

The girl then placed the baby in the oven not knowing it was hot, the detective said. The child screamed and Jewell pulled her out. She attempted to treat her until her mother returned.

At least, he gave the message to a man claiming to be the Soviet premier's personal interpreter — and the publican, Tim Healey, trusts that Khrushchev got the word.

Charlie is British slang for fool. Tim decided to straighten out Khrushchev after listening for hours Thursday night to doleful talk in the bar about the Soviet Union's 50-megaton H-bomb. Things like, what is all that fallout going to do to the children's milk, not to mention a man's beer?

Found Shot In Dynamite Wired Auto

CHICAGO (UPI) — An international union president who sparked the downfall of a convicted labor racketeer was found shot to death in gangland style Friday in a car which had been wired with dynamite.

John (Jack) Kilpatrick, 54, president of the strife-torn United Industrial Workers of America (UIWA), had been shot once behind the left ear and his body abandoned in his car two blocks from his union headquarters.

DYNAMITE FOUND
A dynamite charge was found connected to the engine, wired to explode when the starter was switched on.

Kilpatrick was associated with Angelo Inciso in the United Industrial Workers Union Local 286. The two had a falling out, and Kilpatrick set up Local 300. Inciso subsequently was convicted of milking the union's welfare funds. His conviction is being appealed. Kilpatrick was a key witness in the trial.

Inciso was picked up by police several hours after Kilpatrick's body was found. He was held without charge for questioning. Crime laboratory experts said the wiring of two dynamite sticks to Kilpatrick's car was "very professional."

Police said the dynamite appeared waterlogged. They theorized that Kilpatrick's killers waited impatiently nearby while their victim sat in the car munching a sandwich.

When he failed to start the car, one of them killed him with a bullet, fired through the left front

Snow Hits As Tropical Blow Fades

By United Press International
An unseasonable snowstorm dumped up to a foot and a half of snow on the central and southern Appalachians Friday and tropical storm Gerda took vicious sidescapes at the New England coast.

A Canadian-born snowstorm bore down on the northern Rockies, cold rains lashed the Middle West and Indian summer was put to rout over much of the nation.

The surprise snowstorm in the southeastern mountains caught highway crews with their plows unready, schools with heating systems not functioning and trees still in full leaf. An 18-inch snowfall hit the Summersville and Richwood areas of southern West Virginia. Ten-inch falls blanketed much of southern West Virginia and western sections of Virginia.

Five inches of snow fell on Flat Top Mountain, on the Virginia-North Carolina border, and the mercury dipped to 17 degrees on Mt. Le Conte in the Great Smokies.

Hurricane winds pounded two Texas towers off the New England coast, rough seas sank three boats in Plymouth, Mass., harbor and a gust blew a workman off the wall of a new school at Kingston, Mass., fracturing his skull. Whole gale warnings were displayed from Block Island, R.I., to the tip of Cape Cod and gale warnings from Provincetown, on the cape, to Eastport, Maine.

The weather bureau said Gerda was blustering along a course paralleling the Eastern Seaboard and intensifying as it moved northeast.

17 Injured In Airborne Maneuvers

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—A practice airborne assault into the rugged range country of the Ft. Jackson military reservation sent 17 paratroopers to a hospital Friday.

Five troopers received broken bones, two suffered concussions and 10 were hospitalized with various sprains, bruises and lacerations. None was seriously hurt.

Military authorities said 1,200 troopers jumped and that the casualty list was rather high, based on the normal airborne expectation of less than one per cent injured.

The parachute assault, dubbed Operation Apache, was made by the 2nd Battle Group, 501st Infantry, 82nd Airborne Division, stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

They were dropped from 32 aircraft east of Wildcat Road on this infantry training reservation to deal with an "enemy aggressor" force of some 200 soldiers from Ft. Jackson. Col George Griswold, commander of the paratroopers, jumped from the lead plane. Also among the first to jump were 82nd Airborne Gens. T. J. Conway and Edward Rowley.

The assault paratroopers were reinforced with heavy equipment parachuted to them during the afternoon.

The operation was to conclude with a three-hour night attack continuing until midnight.

Pub Keeper Calls Khrushchev 'Fool'

LONDON (AP)—An irate British pub keeper got through to Moscow by telephone Friday and told Soviet Premier Khrushchev he's a Charlie.

At least, he gave the message to a man claiming to be the Soviet premier's personal interpreter — and the publican, Tim Healey, trusts that Khrushchev got the word.

Charlie is British slang for fool. Tim decided to straighten out Khrushchev after listening for hours Thursday night to doleful talk in the bar about the Soviet Union's 50-megaton H-bomb. Things like, what is all that fallout going to do to the children's milk, not to mention a man's beer?

"Someone ought to tell that bloke Khrushchev what's what," Healey said. And then, thought-left the highway, rolled through a ditch and sheared off a power pole.

Authorities herded back a crowd of onlookers as sparks danced from a live wire.

Within the hour, a three-car mishap resulted in which an auto

Found Shot In Dynamite Wired Auto

CHICAGO (UPI)—An international union president who sparked the downfall of a convicted labor racketeer was found shot to death in gangland style Friday in a car which had been wired with dynamite.

John (Jack) Kilpatrick, 54, president of the strife-torn United Industrial Workers of America (UIWA), had been shot once behind the left ear and his body abandoned in his car two blocks from his union headquarters.

DYNAMITE FOUND

A dynamite charge was found connected to the engine, wired to explode when the starter was switched on.

Kilpatrick was associated with Angelo Inciso in the United Industrial Workers Union Local 286. The two had a falling out, and Kilpatrick set up Local 300. Inciso subsequently was convicted of milking the union's welfare funds. His conviction is being appealed. Kilpatrick was a key witness in the trial.

Inciso was picked up by police several hours after Kilpatrick's body was found. He was held without charge for questioning.

Crime laboratory experts said the wiring of two dynamite sticks to Kilpatrick's car was "very professional."

Police said the dynamite appeared weatherlogged. They theorized that Kilpatrick's killers waited impatiently nearby while their victim sat in the car munching a sandwich.

When he failed to start the car, one of them killed him with a bullet, fired through the left front

Snow Hits As Tropical Blow Fades

By United Press International

An unseasonable snowstorm dumped up to a foot and a half of snow on the central and southern Appalachians Friday and tropical storm Gerda took vicious sideswipes at the New England coast.

A Canadian-born snowstorm bore down on the northern Rockies, cold rains lashed the Middle West and Indian summer was put to rout over much of the nation.

The surprise snowstorm in the southeastern mountains caught highway crews with their plows unready, schools with heating systems not functioning and trees still in full leaf. An 18-inch snowfall hit the Summersville and Richwood areas of southern West Virginia. Ten-inch falls blanketed much of southern West Virginia and western sections of Virginia.

Five inches of snow fell on Flat Top Mountain, on the Virginia-North Carolina border, and the mercury dipped to 17 degrees on Mt. Le Conte in the Great Smokies.

Hurricane winds pounded two Texas towers off the New England coast, rough seas sank three boats in Plymouth, Mass., harbor and a gust blew a workman off the wall of a new school at Kingston, Mass., fracturing his skull.

Whole gale warnings were displayed from Block Island, R.I., to the tip of Cape Cod and gale warnings from Provincetown, on the cape, to Eastport, Maine.

The weather bureau said Gerda was blustering along a course paralleling the Eastern Seaboard and intensifying as it moved north-east.

Accident Claims Life At Rayville

FOLLOWING:

James Jeselink, 22, of Rayville, said he was following two other autos headed toward Monroe, when he attempted to pass.

As he swung into an outside lane, the auto immediately in front of him started swinging out to pass the lead car, driven by Bessie Armoock, of Crew Lake.

Jeselink said he jerked his auto toward the outside lane ditch and the other auto trying to pass sped through the opening.

But when Jeselink tried to get his auto back onto the highway, it careened and Mrs. Armoock drove into a ditch to avoid getting hit, while Jeselink rolled down the opposite ditch.

Neither were hurt. But Jeselink, who was going to Monroe for treatment of a stomach upset, said, "I don't think I'll make it now."

The accident in which Perkins was killed occurred about a mile west of Rayville at approximately 4 p.m.

Boxes of ice cream were scattered along the ditch. State Police said that no reason could be pinpointed for the accident, except that Perkins lost control of his vehicle for some unknown reason.

He was a route man for Forest Milk Products, and authorities said he was probably heading toward Monroe.

The truck apparently made one complete revolution after it left the highway, according to authorities.

The accident occurred in front of the Ben Blackman residence. Officials said "morbid curiosity seekers" hampered efforts to clear the wreckage and keep traffic moving smoothly.

An official said that Perkins still had a weak pulse before he was taken from the wreck scene.

He was taken to Ball-Ellington Clinic at Rayville but could not be revived.

His body was taken to Mulhearn Funeral Home where funeral arrangements were pending last night.

Among survivors are his widow and three children, all of Rayville, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Perkins, also of Rayville.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, pleading for the moratorium, said neither Russia nor the United States could have resumed tests without advance preparation.

Wright replied that "a moratorium is like Don Quixote's helmet—it looks impressive, but it gives no protection."

Declaring that an untried nuclear test ban treaty could be concluded quickly if Russia is willing, Wright said a moratorium proposal "is a natural, if misguided, reaction" to the resumption of tests.

Haekkerup, asking that the committee give urgent and absolute priority to the six-power resolution against the projected acceleration test, said:

"The announced test would be the greatest explosion of the atomic age. It would mean a rise in the amount of fallout comparable to that resulting from all the previous tests in the present series."

"What legitimate purpose could the Soviet Union have for the announcement of this explosion, which, far from serving the cause of peace, seems to serve only one purpose—to enhance the fears and concern of our already harassed peoples?"

In Washington, Mr. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy immediately announced the Justice Department will look into the slaying for possible violation of federal law.

Kennedy said in a statement: "The activities of certain officials of one of the local unions within the United Industrial Workers of America have been a matter of concern to law enforcement for a number of years."

"The Department of Justice will study to determine whether there has been any violation of federal law in the shooting of Mr. Kilpatrick. In any event, the department will cooperate fully with local authorities in every way possible in the investigation of this case."

Kilpatrick had headed the union since 1959 when he broke with his former associate, Angelo Inciso. He was the chief witness against Inciso at a trial in which Inciso was convicted of milking the well-to-do United Nations as an orphan fund of Local 295. Inciso, 50, was sentenced to life in prison.

Gen. Frank O'Sullivan reported earlier, he told a crowd of students back between the two monuments, party workers and office employees over Kilpatrick's refusal to work in this governmental capitol of Inciso's demand that the union, that the question in the election was "whether you are going to live in a white man's country or whether you are going to live in a country like Kenya, where a quantity of wire linked a charge the white man will be buried in dynamite under the hood of 50 years."

He said the bomb may have been because white people had proved failed to go off as his killers plan "themselves superior here and elected and they became impatient with justice for all."

Cotton Acreage Allotments Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department Friday announced state acreage allotments for the 1962 cotton crop.

The state allotments were based on the national allotment of 18.7 million acres announced last week. Louisiana's allotment was 1,400,000 acres, or 7.5 percent below the national allotment of 18.7 million acres.

The allotment for Louisiana was based on the 1959-60 average yield of 10.5 bushels per acre.

Ranger Space Launch Attempt Is Postponed Solon Lays Cuban Fiasco To Stevenson

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Guidance problems forced postponement of an attempt Friday to launch a Ranger II satellite on a million-mile round-trip journey into space.

The countdown on the Atlas-Agena booster rocket had advanced smoothly to within 40 minutes of the scheduled launch time when the trouble was detected. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the difficulty was minor and another effort to fire the vehicle will be made in a day or two.

Ranger II is designed to try out launching techniques and equipment to be used on future lunar and interplanetary flights.

The first Ranger launching in August was only partially successful.

This was the second postponement this week of a major launch from Cape Canaveral. Earlier, the first flight of the Saturn super-booster was called off for at least a week while changes are made in the flight control system.

Verwoerd Says Victory Stems White's Retreat

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd declared Friday night the big election victory for his national party will help to stem "the retreat of white nations."

Broadcasting to the nation after his party won another five-year mandate in Wednesday's election, Verwoerd said the victory was a triumph for the white nations as an orphan fund of Local 295. Inciso, 50, was sentenced to life in prison.

Gen. Frank O'Sullivan reported earlier, he told a crowd of students back between the two monuments, party workers and office employees over Kilpatrick's refusal to work in this governmental capitol of Inciso's demand that the union, that the question in the election was "whether you are going to live in a white man's country or whether you are going to live in a country like Kenya, where a quantity of wire linked a charge the white man will be buried in dynamite under the hood of 50 years."

Landowners Sue Gas Company

A local resident Friday petitioned Fourth District Court to order Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Company off his land. George F. Butler Jr., five other Louisiana residents and two from out-of-state filed a lawsuit with the Ouachita clerk of court against the gas company.

They are asking the court to order the company off the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 29, township 18 north, range one east, and to order it to move all its equipment and to restore the property to the condition it was "before trespass."

The lawsuit also asks $6500 for a stand of young pine trees which it claims was destroyed, and for two acres of land on erosion, $2160.90 for 216.09 rods which it says tank batteries and of pipeline right-of-way varying separation facilities have been from 30 to 50 feet, and $100 per placed.

No Party Wins Majority In Turkey Voting

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Official results of Turkey's election gave the People's Republican party of former President Ismet Inonu the biggest share Friday in the 450-seat National Assembly.

But no party won enough votes to form a majority government.

The returns from Sunday's balloting gave the Republican party 173 seats in the Assembly and 158 to the Justice party. The New Turkey party won 65 and the Peasants Nation party 54.

In the 150-seat Senate the Justice party won the edge with 70 seats and the Republican party got 36. The New Turkey party won 28 and 16 went to the Peasants Nation party.

Innu announced earlier this week he would be willing to try to form a coalition government if the man elected president asked him to.

Gen. Cemal Gursel, chief of the military junta that overthrew the Adnan Menderes regime last year, announced himself a presidential candidate Thursday and expressed a desire for a national front government composed of all four parties in the election.

The new Parliament convenes next Wednesday to choose a president and Gursel's election is virtually certain. There are no other competitors.

Verwoerd Says Victory Stems White's Retreat

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd declared Friday night the big election victory for his national party will help to stem "the retreat of white nations."

Broadcasting to the nation after his party won another five-year mandate in Wednesday's election on a program of intensified apartheid-race segregation, Verwoerd declared the white nations seemed to be retreating in the United Nations.

The U.N. General Assembly last week censured Foreign Minister Eric Louw of South Africa for a speech defending his government's racial policies. Verwoerd referred to the United Nations as an organization where nations with the most population do the dictating regardless of merit.

Earlier, he told a crowd of students, party workers and office workers in this governmental capital, that the question in the election was "whether you are going to live in a white man's country or whether you are going to live in a country like Kenya, where the white man will be buried in 50 years."

Verwoerd said his new program would continue separation of races because white people had proved themselves superior here and elsewhere. But Verwoerd promised justice for all.

Solon Lays Cuban Fiasco To Stevenson

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Walter Judd, R-Minn., Friday charged Adlai Stevenson, chief of United States delegate to the United Nations, with being largely responsible for the Cuban invasion fiasco.

Judd also told an all-day Republican gathering that he considered President Kennedy a weak and indecisive leader.

George Etzler, Republican national committeeman for Minnesota, was more pronounced. He called Kennedy "either dumb or soft on communism."

Judd said Stevenson was caught on a limb before the final stage of the Cuban invasion was to have been carried out. He said that Stevenson thought Cuban pilots who completed the first phase of the invasion by bombing with B52s were defectors from the Castro regime.

Judd said Stevenson became "incensed" when he learned they were actually earlier defectors from the Cuban Air Force.

"It was his pressure as far as I can find out," Judd said, "that caused postponement of the second and crucial phase of the invasion, the knocking out of the T33 planes which would later bomb the invasion craft."

Judd said Stevenson had been wrongly informed about the identity of the pilots and couldn't answer when Fidel Castro invited him to produce any defectors.

Judd said he did not want to be critical of the President because "in these dangerous times I want him to be a great president." But he said that indecision is the outstanding feature of the administration.

"Mr. Kennedy won't let others make any decisions and he won't make any himself," Judd claimed.

No Party Wins Majority In Turkey Voting

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—Official results of Turkey's election gave the People's Republican party of former President Ismet Inonu the biggest share Friday in the 450-seat National Assembly. But no party won enough votes to form a majority government.

The returns from Sunday's balloting gave the Republican party 173 seats in the Assembly and 158 to the Justice party. The New Turkey party won 65 and the Peasants Nation party 54.

In the 150-seat Senate the Justice party won the edge with 70 seats and the Republican party got 36. The New Turkey party won 28 and 16 went to the Peasants Nation party.

Inonu announced earlier this week he would be willing to try to form a coalition government if the man elected president asked him to.

Gen. Cemal Gursel, chief of the military junta that overthrew the Adnan Menderes regime last year, announced himself a presidential candidate Thursday and expressed a desire for a national front government composed of all four parties in the election.

The new Parliament convenes next Wednesday to choose a president and Gursel's election is virtually certain. There are no other competitors.

Cubans Found Adrift In Boat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Coast Guard patrol craft Friday picked up 23 Cubans adrift in a 16-foot boat off Dry Tortugas Island at the end of the Florida Keys.

Miami Coast Guard information officer Dondy Mathieu said a woman aboard the Cuban boat gave birth to a child two days ago. Mathieu said the boat had been adrift eight days and was found by the Tampa motor vessel Merco 60 miles west of the island.

There were 10 children on the Cuban boat.

The department proposals for changes of size and weight limits would provide for general acceptance of parcels weighing up to 50 pounds and having a combined length and girth of up to 100 inches.

These general limits, however, would not apply to certain exceptions such as parcels bound from or to second, third and fourth-class or rural route post offices; addressed to or mailed at post offices for the armed forces, in Puerto Rico or any U.S. possession, material for blind persons, and other specified commodities now exempt from weight limits.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Albert Sidney Johnston in the fall of '61 was considered the Confederacy's No. 1 general. And he had a job equal or greater than his reputation — command of the entire Confederate west.

His title was as imposing as his reputation and nearly as big as his task. For Johnston officially was "General Commanding the Western Department of the Confederate States of America."

This territory stretched from Cumberland Gap, where Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia meet, to the eastern border of Kansas — about 650 airline miles. To defend the part of his command between the Mississippi River and the eastern mountains — about 350 miles — he had about 20,000 troops — 60 men to the mile.

As all Civil War troops in '61, the soldiers were green and scantily armed, many using flintlock muskets and sporting rifles brought from home. There also was the usual Confederate shortage of shoes, uniforms and equipment.

Johnston came to the job as a ready-made hero. He was more than six feet tall, with broad shoulders, square jaws and a magnificent handlebar mustache.

He was a Kentuckian, 58 years old in '61, with a military background. Born in Washington, Ky., he went to Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., and later to West Point where he was graduated in 1826, eighth in a class of 41. He resigned from the army in 1834 when his wife became ill. After her death he entered the Republic of Texas army as a private and in a year was its commander. Still later he was secretary of war for the independent state.

He headed a regiment of Texas volunteers in the Mexican War but the regiment refused to enlist just as the fighting started so Johnston served as a volunteer aide to Gen. Zachary Taylor at the battle of Monterrey. It was there that Col. Jefferson Davis of the Mississippi Rifles first saw Johnston in action.

Back in the U. S. Army after the war, Johnston became colonel of the famous 2nd Cavalry, called the "Confederate Cadre" because it was largely officered by Southerners. Lt. Col. Robert E. Lee was his second in command. He won a brigadier's brevet in the Mormon expedition in 1837.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Johnston was in charge of the Department of the Pacific with headquarters at San Francisco.

He resigned in the spring of '61 and with eight other officers and 25 civilians rode 2,000 miles across deserts and through Apaches to the Confederacy. Before he left California, Johnston was offered but refused a major general's commission in the Union Army to be second in command to Lt. Gen. Winfield Scott. The old general had a high opinion of Johnston as a soldier.

Johnston's trip through the South to Richmond was a continuous ovation. Crowds at railroad stations cheered him.

In Richmond, Jefferson Davis, now president of the C.S.A., promptly appointed him a full general and gave him the western command.

Johnston arrived in Nashville, Tenn., his headquarters, on September 14, 1861. On the way he had stopped off at Knoxville, Tenn., and sent Brig. Gen. Felix Zollicoffer to defend Cumberland Gap with 4,000 men. This was to be the eastern anchor of Johnston's defense line.

Zollicoffer was a political general. Once a newspaper editor, then a Congressman, when the war started he was sent to East Tennessee as a brigadier to attempt to mollify Union sentiment there.

Before moving into Kentucky, Zollicoffer was careful to write Gov. Beriah Magoffin of Kentucky, and tell him of the Confederate intentions. "We will respect Kentucky's neutrality as long as our safety permits," Zollicoffer wrote.

Kentucky's "neutrality" already had been broken at Columbus.

Within a week after his arrival in Nashville, Johnston had made Simon Buckner, another West Pointer, a brigadier general and dispatched him to Bowling Green, Ky., with about 4,000 troops. Bowling Green was to be the center anchor of Johnston's line.

Buckner was 38, a native of Hart County, Ky.

Gen. Leonidas Polk, a West Pointer and an Episcopal bishop, had about 11,000 men at Columbus, Ky., on a bluff overlooking the Mississippi, which he was fortifying. Columbus was the western anchor.

These forces formed Johnston's line across Kentucky and a weak line it was, a fact that Johnston knew better than anyone else.

He immediately set about trying to assemble more troops. He appealed to the governors of Alabama and Georgia to send men and arms, both of which they had. These executives stood on their state's rights, however, and refused, saying their men and arms were needed at home.

Johnston's biographer, his son, wrote that his father "had the right to ask for anything, and the state executives had the power to withhold everything."

Davis had empowered Johnston to call for troops from Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi. Accordingly, he asked for 50,000—10,000 each from Arkansas and Mississippi and 30,000 from Tennessee.

In the course of time, Mississippi furnished four regiments before politics snarled the negotiations. The Arkansas recruits were used to defend that state. By Christmas, Tennessee had furnished about 15,000 men for Johnston's army, which would carry the name of the Army of Tennessee.

After the first of the year Johnston's position was so critical he sent an officer to make a personal appeal for help to President Davis.

After a long talk, Davis told the officer:

"Tell my friend, General Johnston, that I can do nothing for him, that he must rely on his own resources."

Johnston eventually did receive a few thousand good rifles from the Richmond government and two brigades from the east. But late in October he was doing exactly what Davis would tell his emissary — he was relying on his own slim resources.

He visited Polk in Columbus in October to inspect the defenses there. Polk was working fast and soon had more than 100 guns tiered on the bluff.

Late in October, when the Federals were reported to be moving against Buckner, Johnston went to Bowling Green to inspect his middle anchor.

But there would be many a delay before the uncoordinated Union armies, scattered from Eastern Kentucky to the Mississippi, would be on the move against Johnston's makeshift line. The Confederate forces, however, would not be in much better shape to meet the advance in the late winter than they were in the last week of October.

One grave at the Antietam National Cemetery bears the name of Wenepephus Corstumplicutt of a New York regiment.

Brig. Gen. James W. Ripley, Union chief of ordnance until 1863, was a veteran of the War of 1812 and a firm opponent of breach-loading arms. His nephew, Roswell Ripley, was a brigadier in the Confederate army.

Tube Inventor Dies In Private Plane Mishap

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Sigurd F. Varian, 60, who with two associates invented the klystron tube, basic element of radar, was killed in a private plane crash in Mexico, his office was informed Friday.

He was flying a two-engine plane from Guadalajara to Puerto Vallarta, his family reported, when he crashed into the Pacific about a mile offshore.

A companion, George Applegate, swam ashore.

Varian's body washed up on the beach.

Varian was cofounder and former board chairman of Varian Associates of Palo Alto, a big electronics firm.

He barnstormed around the country in World War I planes for years.

He was one of the first pilots sent to Mexico when Pan American World Airways inaugurated service to Mexico and Central America and lived in Mexico from 1929 to 1934.

Varian, his late brother, Russell, and Dr. William Hansen, invented the klystron tube.

His brother-in-law, Victor Hogg, discovered Thursday that Varian had not reached Puerto Vallarta. He landed his own plane near the crash scene and learned of the accident.

FOURTEEN-month-old Doris Kurteff takes a drink in a Chicago hospital after the first of a series of operations designed to restore two giant fingers to their normal, tiny size. Australian doctors feared it would be necessary to amputate the first two fingers on the right hand of Doris, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitke Kurteff of Sydney. The fingers are almost four times normal size because of a condition known as gigantism. The girl's uncle contacted a Chicago surgeon who believes a series of operations over a six-month period can overcome the condition. (AP wirephoto)

Local Authority Needed

Many of us are constantly on guard against further encroachments of the federal government. We don't want our states to lose their rights because of a centralized United States government. What we also need to protect our local governments against encroachment by our state government.

Louisiana has often been characterized as one of the most highly politicalized states in the union. There can be little doubt that this is true largely because of the tremendous power accorded to the governor through patronage opportunities in the form of a great number of political appointments.

Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana says the governor has authority to appoint some 1,500 local officials during a four-year term and that this gives a Louisiana governor many patronage opportunities, which enhances his power beyond the administration of strictly state government activities.

"There is no need," P.A.R. said, "for such vast appointive power to be vested in the governor. Other ways of filling these positions are available, most of which would tend to spread the authority rather than placing it in the hands of the governor."

Besides enhancing the governor's power in the operation of local government, from which he should be excluded, this huge appointive power gives the governor added patronage opportunities for control of the legislature.

"When a governor can fill as many as 30 local appointive positions in a representative's parish, plus filling vacancies for such elective positions as police juror or school board member, the governor is in a position to use this appointing authority to gain support for his legislative program in the legislature," P.A.R. stated.

Other results of this extensive appointing authority in local government were listed by the non-partisan research agency as follows:

1. An imbalance between state and local government with state authority gaining over local units.
2. Diversion of the governor's time from state affairs to local matters.

3. Control of local board finances by the governor when he appoints a majority of the members of a local body.

4. Reduced local authority over boards to which members are appointed by the governor.

In addition to these drawbacks to extensive appointment of local officials by the governor, P.A.R. said it is difficult for a governor to know 1,500 persons competent in the various fields of local government to fill all the positions.

Instead of such extensive gubernatorial authority for appointments, P.A.R. offered the following possibilities:

1. A change in laws so that appointments to local boards and commissions might be done by local governing bodies.

2. Adoption of a uniform plan for filling vacancies in elected local offices by local elections or appointment by local governing bodies.

P.A.R. reported that the governor has authority when he takes office to appoint about 800 persons with local responsibilities. A majority of these serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Among such positions are members of boards of election supervisors, the attorneys to assist inheritance tax collectors, parish civil defense officers, levee board members, port and harbor district board members, and members of many special district boards and commissions.

A review of appointments by the late Gov. Earl K. Long showed that in his four-year term he appointed 702 persons to fill vacancies created by death, resignation, removal from a parish or district, and other causes.

In some cases, such as school board and police jury cases, the governor appoints a person to fill a vacancy for the entire unexpired term. In other cases, the appointment is for less than a year.

P.A.R. cited the model city and county charter drafted by the National Municipal League as providing for appointments to vacancies by local governing boards where the unexpired term is less than a year.

It Now Seems Grimly Certain That Underground Blasts Of Nuclear Weapons Are Not Good Enough

One more major illusion about American survival has been shattered — and this may be the most cruel, most fateful, most challenging blow of all.

From all external evidence, and from a good deal of internal evidence, it now seems grimly certain that the underground testing of nuclear weapons which we are doing is not good enough.

The trust that we put in this no-fallout method of improving military weaponry has failed us. We are standing nose-to-nose with the necessity of exploding test bombs in the atmosphere and accepting the risk and responsibility of radioactive fallout. Either we do that and damn the consequences — or we permit the Russians to develop nuclear weapons with which we cannot cope.

I am able to write with an unenviable confidence here because of information from a source that is above dispute. At the press conference of October 11th, I had this information when I asked the President, "Will we have to go to atmospheric testing in the near future?" His reply was suitably cautious, but it contained two important disclosures. One, the President will not be cozened into another untested test ban. Two, the President has already ordered a study on the need to return to atmospheric testing, and this is why:

1. Underground explosions which we commenced in early September are supplying data which will be useful for no longer than six months. This is a jarring disappointment. As recently as last July, Chairman Hollifield of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee and a confidant of Mr. Kennedy, stated that tests in "underground cavities" were sufficient for weapon improvement and also to "prove the principle of new and possibly revolutionary weapons." It was on this shaky rationale that the Administration planned to move into underground, fallout-free testing — but no further.

2. Russian overhead explosions have "jammed" our evaluation facilities. With 20-plus nuclear shots in less than two months, Soviets have swamped us with a deluge of varied, disparate and all-too-impressive data. It will take us many months to collect and assimilate the information which the Russians have fired into the winds, and still more months to make scientific judgments which are the groundwork of military decisions.

3. Rueful post mortems by Government scientists indicate that Russia used at least half of the 35-month moratorium on nuclear testing to prepare for the astonishing salvo of shots in September and October. There is no acknowledged evidence that Russia cheated during the test ban, but the USSR has stolen another long march on the USA. If it took Russia better than 15 months to set up the present test series, we would be very foolish to delay our own preparations. A U.S. Information Agency survey shows almost universal vituperation of Russia's atmospheric testing, but no commendation of the USA for refraining from the same. There is no propaganda advantage to counterbalance the grave military disadvantage of our present position.

4. Dubunking of the horrendous effect of fallout from the Russian tests will certainly hasten the President's decision to shoot the works in the atmosphere. Dr. Edward Teller has said that overhead tests, "if properly conducted, are not dangerous." The Administration will soon have a duty to tell the American people that the most dreadful risk of all is not the testing, not the risk of nuclear war — but the unacceptable proposition of losing such a war.

But the future is not without some brave hopefulness. Russia's current test series may have brought us into an era which only a few statesmen have recognized. Call it the era of the Third Generation of nuclear weapons. For going on two years, Senator Tom Dodd has been trying to draw attention to the Neutron Bomb — a weapon that is fallout free, fatal but not devastating, more dangerous to the enemy against whom it is aimed than to the user and bystanders.

Another statesman who denounced cessation of nuclear testing, and prophesied the development of new weapons for solving our present problems, was the late Thomas E. Murray, former AEC Commissioner. Mr. Murray's voice from the grave brings this solemn but heartening message:

"... these weapons would already have been tested had it not been for the moratorium. It is no exaggeration to assert that, if the veil of nuclear secrecy could be lifted and the American public informed of all the weapons possibilities of which our nuclear scientists are aware, the popular clamor for the immediate resumption of nuclear tests would be loud and insistent."

This was true when Mr. Murray wrote it before Mr. Kennedy's inauguration. It is just as true today.

A thought for today: Samuel Taylor Coleridge said, "To have lived in vain must be a painful thought to any man, and especially so to him who has made literature his profession."

ANSWER: I recall an ulcer patient who used to insist on drinking three or four quarts of milk a day. After a while he gained 30 to 40 pounds and we had an obesity problem on our hands.

It's true that frequent feedings are still important in ulcer management. But it's not necessary to gulp milk by the glassful every hour or two.

Our main purpose is to neutralize the stomach acids and give the ulcer a chance to heal. Probably the best anti-acid preparations are the aluminum hydroxide — magnesium trisilicate mixtures, taken every hour: only under your own doctor's direction.

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is olive oil good to take to reduce cholesterol? — Mrs. L., Calif.

ANSWER: Although this oil contains some unsaturated fats it is essentially a neutral oil which doesn't help much in reducing cholesterol.

For Mrs. W.: If you are one of those fortunate patients with rheumatoid arthritis who are helped by gold treatment, there's no reason why you shouldn't continue under the watchful eyes of your doctor.

House Controls

Smith College Girls Say Committee Has Abused Its Power

Members of Congress have received a petition from 252 students of Smith College who object to the amount of control exercised by the United States House of Representatives over one of its standing committees, the House Committee on Un-American Activities. We suggest the re-wording of the House's mandate in order to specifically limit the Committee's power of investigation to those matters concerning which Congress has full authority to legislate. There is a wide gulf between responsibility for the use of investigatory power and the actual exercise of that power.

Precisely what powers of investigation does Congress lack? The business of Congress is to legislate, and to legislate intelligently, Congress requires knowledge. In pursuit of such knowledge, Congressional committees hold hearings. Sometimes the hearings are interesting, valuable, even amusing; sometimes they are stupidly conducted and are very dull. Nevertheless, the hearings, over the whole of American history, as the Smith girls must know, have proved invaluable.

The Smith young ladies say: "To date the House Committee has extended and abused its power. It has indulged in some irresponsible accusations under the protection of congressional immunity. The right to dissent as well as that of orderly protest is any American's cherished freedom and inalienable right."

Everytime a congressional committee has had before it a Communist, there are those who insist that the committee exceeded its powers; but when a committee had before it such financiers as J. P. Morgan, no one protested.

Congressman Edwin B. Dooley, replying to one of the girls who happens to be a constituent of his, wrote:

"... the House quite properly declines the exercise control over 'particular inquiries.' The sheer volume of legislation to be considered would by itself preclude such an arrangement. Besides, what might otherwise at first glance seem like a lack of control over committee activities is in reality the essence of our committee structure; the element of trust implicit in such an arrangement is the very foundation upon which the House and Senate conduct their daily order of business."

The gathering of data is very difficult. For instance, at present a Senate committee is investigating the relations between Jimmy Hoffa and Harry Bridges. The young ladies may feel that this is an invasion of the privacy of Hoffa and Bridges, two very powerful citizens who in time of war can, if they choose, imperil the transportation system of the country. Hoffa has not been accused of Communist relationships; Bridges has, Hoffa is engaged in marginal capitalism, investing his union's funds in various enterprises; Bridges is ideologically not associated with capitalism. How does it happen that these two are so close?

The answer is that in the politics of unionism, both Hoffa and Bridges are opposed to the current management of the AFL-CIO. Also Hoffa is antagonistic to the United States Senate. We have here then a combine which is dangerous in time of war because one party of it is suspected of association with international communism and the other is in a rage against constituted authority. This is definitely a matter for congressional investigation.

The young ladies may feel that there is nothing wrong with Hoffa and Bridges joining forces. Yet, if they knew the facts of labor politics, they would realize what a menace there is in this union of forces.

Representative Dooley made the point in his letter:

"It has been my experience that, more often than not, a specific legislative remedy is nowhere in sight when a committee commences an investigation. As a matter of fact, countless investigations by not only HUAC but other committees have revealed the adequacy of existing law if properly enforced, although this may not have been evident prior to an investigation."

This is too often overlooked by those who fail to realize that law enforcement can become innocuous unless public opinion supports the law. But where does the public get the information? Newspapers do not possess the power of subpoena; in fact, they are so limited by libel laws that they often cannot serve the public. It is necessary to have the power of subpoena to get certain specific information. Should a reporter ask that question he will be told to go to the devil, but an investigator for a congressional committee can get the information unless the person is willing to say, under oath, that to tell the truth will incriminate him.

Market Inquiry

Securities Now Headed For Roughest, Toughest Going Over

The securities markets are now heading for the roughest, toughest, most relentless going-over since the investigations of the 1930s ushered in an era of record-shattering reform legislation.

Out of the 1961-62 probes — being carried on by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the agency which was born in that reform era three decades ago — new legislation is virtually certain to come to enhance the protection of investors, to help curb excessive, dangerous gambling, to prevent deceit, manipulation and fraud in the financial markets.

The American stock exchange has been under full-scale investigation by the SEC since spring, as a result of the disclosures of scandalous stock manipulations by the specialist firm of Re, Re and Sagarese. The entire field of investment companies also has been under broad scrutiny for two years by the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, acting under a contract from the SEC.

Both of these probes will be completed in a few months, and meanwhile the main event — the broadest, deepest, most compelling probe into the securities business in over a quarter-century — will get under way and will use data the two probes have uncovered. Congress has authorized the major study, voted the money. Throughout all of 1962, the investigations will center on the New York Stock Exchange, the American stock exchange, the vast over-the-counter markets and their self-policing organization, the National Association of Securities Dealers.

Since the probes are to go through 1962 at least, significant new legislation is not likely until the 1963 Congress meets.

Already, though, the recent revelations of flagrant violations of the laws and rules governing the securities markets, the subterfuge spring of what SEC Chairman William L. Cary calls "one of the most frenzied markets in the history of the country," the threat and now the reality of investigations, have produced results. These results are as follows:

(1) Next month, the SEC is slated to issue its new rules curbing the promotion literature and advertising claims of investment advisory services. The knowledge that the rules are coming has helped temper "tout" ads. Simultaneously, the big board is examining more closely letters put out by its member firms to make sure they conform to its standards.

(2) Governing bodies of the securities markets are taking steps on their own to raise the standards of securities salesmen. The NYSE has worked out a new uniform examination for qualifying securities salesmen, which it is offering to state authorities for their use. The NASD is upgrading its tests for salesmen in the over-the-counter markets. Belated though these moves are, they are serious attempts to screen out the incompetent, the uninformed, the slick promoters from the financial markets. The NYSE hopes its exam will be the forerunner of a national uniform test for all securities salesmen.

(3) The most glaring violations in the markets for new stock issues are being curbed both by the SEC and by the firms themselves — now aware that their very existence is at stake. Tie-in deals under which a buyer gets a block of new stock at the issue price on condition that he buy more stock later at a higher price in the market and thus help keep up the price, have been banned. Firms withholding large chunks of new stock from the market to give to favored insider groups have been warned this practice amounts to manipulation.

(4) The ASE and NASD have been clamping down on their members on several fronts, ordering a "house-cleaning." There has been a rash of disciplinary actions, suspensions, expulsions, even indictments, to warn all that the heat is on.

Mass Polio Vaccinations

If people in the towns and cities of the United States would receive oral anti-polio vaccine on the same kind of mass basis that has been carried on in Hull, England, the whole population of this country could be immunized within a few days.

More than 100,000 persons — a third of Hull's population — were estimated to have received the vaccine in one day in western Europe's biggest mass immunization campaign.

Queues formed at 48 emergency clinics before they opened in the morning. Immunization of the entire population of 302,000 was planned within a period of about three days. Round-the clock dosages were scheduled until all had received their doses.

This kind of immunization campaign may not wipe out polio completely but it will come as near doing that as anything that can be devised right now. No vaccine has yet been found to be 100 percent effective but if vaccinations at this rates were carried on throughout the world it might not be long before the viruses or germs or whatever it is that causes polio would disappear. This we do not know but we do know that the rate of infection can be drastically cut.

Why doesn't the whole United States undertake just such a campaign as that has been going on in Hull?

Woodpecker Troubles

If woodpeckers would behave more like birds and less like foxes, three families in Wayne, N. J., would be less disturbed, both mentally and economically. Incidentally, there is a possibility that the predicament of these three families has been experienced in the Monroe area without the victims being aware of it.

Traditionally birds have nests and foxes have holes but the trouble is the woodpecker won't stick to his role and insists that he must, like the fox, have holes. Foxes dig their holes but woodpeckers hammer them out with their bills, either in wood or other handy material.

In the Wayne case, downy woodpeckers drilled holes in the cedar shingles used to cover the homes of the three families. Ten of the holes were found in one corner of the roof on one home. The woodpeckers pecked vertically starting at the top.

Woodpeckers are reported not to be fond of metal, plastic, asbestos, or rubberoid materials, so your home may be safe.

If, however, you have a home with a wooden roof or wooden sides and you suddenly find holes in it, don't rule out the woodpeckers. If it is woodpeckers, the happy solution is to place brightly colored pinwheels on the house. Woodpeckers can't stand pinwheels.

The first coins minted in the New World were struck at a mint established in Mexico City in the 1530s. The inscription "plus ultra," further beyond, and the Pillars of Hercules, representing the gate to the New World, appear on the coins.

JFK Visit Gives Camel Driver Thrill

NEW YORK (AP) —For Bashir Ahmad, a simple, smiling camel driver from out of the East, Friday was the greatest day of his life.

He met President Kennedy at the White House and a few hours later, as though borne upon a magic carpet, he found himself amid the towered splendor of this city, which O. Henry once called Baghdad-on-the-Subway.

The visitor from faraway Pakistan obviously was enthralled.

"I have met the man of the world," he said through an interpreter as he left the White House. He had hoped to meet President Kennedy without, however, any advance assurance that he would.

"You told your leader in high esteem to have him live in such a nice house," Bashir added.

The camel driver's beaming good humor, his obvious relish at the sights and sounds that have confronted him in America, have won him respect and admiration ever since he arrived in this country Oct. 15.

Bashir, 46, has even learned to oblige autograph seekers as he did when a woman stopped him on his arrival here at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Said Bashir's interpreter: "He's happy because since he came to this country he has learned to sign his name."

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, during an Asian tour last May, invited Bashir to come here for a visit. It ends Saturday when he departs for his home in Karachi.

Bashir refers to President Kennedy as the American badshah, or king. His title for Vice President Johnson is deputy king. Before he left home, Bashir had said: "I will consider myself fortunate if I ever meet the American badshah."

That meeting occurred Friday as Bashir, in black fur hat and long black coat came face to face with Kennedy in the Presidents White House office.

"There was no plan for him to meet the President," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen. The President saw the camel driver go by on a tour of the White House and asked him to come into his office for a minute or two.

Photographers and reporters were not admitted.

Cases of theft against John Colingworth, 42, of 1327 N. 7th, in West Monroe, and a 25-year-old Rayville Negro, Dennis Holland, were nolle prossed on payment of $10 court costs.

Clarence Webster, 38, Negro, of 1004 Powell Ave., forfeited bond of $25 on charges of public drunkenness. A case of simple battery on Edward Fuller, 33, of 107 Peach St., was nolle prossed on payment of $10 court costs.

Fined $25 or 25 days on conviction for the same charge was Bill Monk, 27, whose address was shown as Room 211 at the Alvis Hotel.

WITH MISS SWEDEN

Student Red-Faced Over Dream Date

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Harvard College senior is getting a lot of sympathy from his roommates and friends.

He wangled a dream date with Miss Sweden of 1961 the other night and feels he was a complete flop.

As Jim Ulyot put it: "Boy, did I foul things up. I had one foot in the bucket all night. You might say I really laid an egg. She'll never come back to the Ivy League again."

Jim met Gunilla Knutsen at the office of the college daily newspaper, The Crimson, and asked her for a date. When she agreed, he armed himself with a borrowed $10, a borrowed car, and a hope that Miss Sweden wouldn't be too extravagant a dinner partner.

Jim said the evening started wrong when he arrived 20 minutes late. He then engaged her in conversation, unintentionally he says, until it was too late to go out to dinner.

When she finally asked for a hamburger, he took her to Harvard Square and bought a lavish meal costing $1.55.

Even a requested ride on a motor scooter went sour when Jim was stopped by the police for driving a scooter with no registration plate.

"I felt like a fool, an idiot, a

Kathleen Sumrall of 97 Otis St. in West Monroe, reported to Monroe police Friday afternoon the theft of about $35 in cash, taken from the seat of her parked automobile.

The sum apparently was taken while the car was parked on the lot of a local shopping center between 1:30 and 1:45 p.m.

Taylor Plans Flying Tour In Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Reports of a Communist raid on a vital highway reached here Friday as Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor prepared for a flying visit to guerrilla-ridden territory.

The Communists struck near Pleiku, about 150 miles north of Saigon. The town originally was scheduled for the tour of Taylor, President Kennedy's military adviser, but later was dropped.

Fragmentary information indicated strong forces of Communist Viet Cong troops attacked a heavily defended mountain outpost on the highway Tuesday, the day before Taylor arrived.

Informants said the Viet Cong sought without success to lure bigger government units from Pleiku, 30 miles west of the outpost. Casualties were reported light.

Tropical storm Anita forced a day's delay in the general's tour. He will leave Saturday for a two-day swing, with the itinerary somewhat altered.

While Pleiku was dropped, there was no indication the battle caused this change.

There have been about 20 scattered skirmishes with the Viet Cong during this first week of Taylor's hunt for ways to bolster the apparently deteriorating position of the pro-Western South Vietnamese forces.

Taylor spent the day in conferences with U.S. guerrilla warfare experts.

Taylor will dine Saturday with President Ngo Dinh Diem at the upland resort city of Dalat, about 180 miles north of Saigon.

Taylor will inspect a noncommissioned officers school and witness a ranger training demonstration at the coastal center of Nangrang, northeast of this capital, Sunday.

On Monday, Taylor has more talks with Diem at the presidential palace here. Tentative plans call for Taylor and his party of 15 to leave for Bangkok Wednesday.

State Prison Industry Plan Is Advocated

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Chairman Chester Green of the Louisiana Board of Institutions Friday called for industrialization of the state penitentiary at Angola to benefit both taxpayers and inmates.

Green and some institution officials recently toured the industrialized Maryland prison system, and he had high praise for it.

In launching efforts to win support for a similar program in Louisiana, Green said, "In the next two or three years, our state penitentiary should be up near the top nationally in industrialized programs."

The board heard an earlier report from E. A. Lea Sr., whose subcommittee toured the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman.

Green told the board he would arrange a future meeting of the board with Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and interested legislators to sell them the industrialization idea because, he said, it would make money.

"With the governor's help—and he has assured us he wants to help our institutions—we can industrialize Angola," Green said, "we already have doubled profits at Angola."

Green suggested the Louisiana Correctional and Industrial School for youthful offenders at DeQuincy could turn to bookbinding work, while Angola might produce metal furniture for state colleges and institutions.

Judge Wright Bans Off-Track Race Betting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright signed a temporary restraining order Friday to ban off-track betting at Jefferson Downs race track.

Judge Wright offered Alcide Guidry, the defendant, to show cause on Nov. 1 why the order should not be made permanent. The track's current season opened Sept. 18 and will end Nov. 18.

The order was signed after a petition was filed by Richard B. Montgomery Jr., a trustee of Magnolia Park, now bankrupt. Jefferson Downs leased the Magnolia Park track and pays a rental based on the pari-mutuel handle.

Montgomery contended that Guidry and his associates caused a substantial loss in the Jefferson Downs handle by operating books on races there, thus cutting the amount of rent.

Guidry was the only defendant named, but Judge Wright's order directed that his "associates, agents, confederates or those acting in concert with him" show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued.

Negroes Booked For Shoplifting

Shoplifting and theft occupied Monroe police Friday. Booked on a warrant for theft was a Negro woman, Myrtis Mae Etheridge, 40, of 214 N. Congo St. Officers said she was wanted for the theft of a small amount of cash from a restaurant on DeSiard St.

Another Negro woman, Otis Clara Perkins, 33, of 3713 Prospect St., was booked for shoplifting after she was charged with taking a pair of shoes valued at $2 from a United Dollar Store on Catalpa.

In other cases, Lina Mae McElduff, 33, of Route 1, Choudrant, was booked for felony theft later in the day, and a 17-year-old Negro girl, Minnie Lee Rodgers, 111 N. 14th in Monroe, was charged with theft. The girl is being held in lieu of $100 bond.

Said Bashir's interpreter: "He's happy because since he came to this country he has learned to sign his name."

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, during an Asian tour last May, invited Bashir to come here for a visit. It ends Saturday when he departs for his home in Karachi.

Bashir refers to President Kennedy as the American badshah—or king. His title for Vice President Johnson is deputy king. Before he left home, Bashir had said: "I will consider myself fortunate if I ever meet the American badshah."

That meeting occurred Friday as Bashir, in black fur hat and long black coat came face to face with Kennedy in the Presidents White House office.

"There was no plan for him to meet the President," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told newsmen. The President saw the camel driver go by on a tour of the White House "and asked him to come into his office for a minute or two."

Photographers and reporters were not admitted.

Fined $25 or 25 days on conviction for the same charge was Bill Monk, 27, whose address was shown as Room 211 at the Alvis Hotel.

WITH MISS SWEDEN

Student Red-Faced Over Dream Date

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Harvard College senior is getting a lot of sympathy from his roommates and friends.

He wangled a dream date with Miss Sweden of 1961 the other night and feels he was a complete flop.

As Jim Ulliot put it "Boy, did I foul things up. I had one foot in the bucket all night. You might say I really laid an egg. She'll never come back to the Ivy League again."

Jim met Gunilla Knutsen at the office of the college daily newspaper, The Crimson, and asked her for a date. When she agreed, he armed himself with a borrowed $10, a borrowed car, and a hope that Miss Sweden wouldn't be too extravagant a dinner partner.

Jim said the evening started wrong when he arrived 20 minutes late. He then engaged her in conversation, unintentionally he says, until it was too late to go out to dinner.

When she finally asked for a hamburger, he took her to Harvard Square and bought a lavish meal costing $1.55.

Even a requested ride on a motor scooter went sour when Jim was stopped by the police for driving a scooter with no registration plate.

"I felt like a fool, an idiot, a bungler or something," Jim said in describing his embarrassment as he took his dream date home.

And what did Miss Sweden think?

The shapely Miss Knutsen said,

"It was very nice and very unlike dates in Sweden. Dates here are very casual."

Taylor Plans Flying Tour In Viet Nam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Reports of a Communist raid on a vital highway reached here Friday as Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor prepared for a flying visit to guerrilla-ridden territory.

The Communists struck near Pleiku, about 150 miles north of Saigon. The town originally was scheduled for the tour of Taylor, President Kennedy's military adviser, but later was dropped.

Fragmentary information indicated strong forces of Communist Viet Cong troops attacked a heavily defended mountain outpost on the highway Tuesday, the day before Taylor arrived.

Informants said the Viet Cong sought without success to lure bigger government units from Pleiku, 30 miles west of the outpost. Casualties were reported light.

Tropical storm Anita forced a day's delay in the general's tour. He will leave Saturday for a two-day swing, with the itinerary somewhat altered.

While Pleiku was dropped, there was no indication the battle caused this change.

There have been about 20 scattered skirmishes with the Viet Cong during this first week of Taylor's hunt for ways to bolster the apparently deteriorating position of the pro-Western South Vietnamese forces.

Taylor spent the day in conferences with U.S. guerrilla warfare experts.

Taylor will dine Saturday with President Ngo Dinh Diem at the upland resort city of Dalat, about 180 miles north of Saigon.

Taylor will inspect a noncommissioned officers school and witness a ranger training demonstration at the coastal center of Nangrang, northeast of this capital, Sunday.

On Monday, Taylor has more talks with Diem at the presidential palace here. Tentative plans call for Taylor and his party of 15 to leave for Bangkok Wednesday.

State Prison Industry Plan Is Advocated

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Chairman Chester Green of the Louisiana Board of Institutions Friday called for industrialization of the state penitentiary at Angola to benefit both taxpayers and inmates.

Green and some institution officials recently toured the industrialized Maryland prison system, and he had high praise for it.

In launching efforts to win support for a similar program in Louisiana, Green said, "in the next two or three years, our state penitentiary should be up near the top nationally in industrialized programs."

The board heard an earlier report from E. A. Lea Sr., whose subcommittee toured the Mississippi State Penitentiary at Parchman.

Green told the board he would arrange a future meeting of the board with Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and interested legislators to sell them the industrialization idea because, he said, it would make money.

"With the governor's help—and he has assured us he wants to help our institutions—we can industrialize Angola," Green said, "we already have doubled profits at Angola."

Green suggested the Louisiana Correctional and Industrial School for youthful offenders at DeQuincy could turn to bookbinding work, while Angola might produce metal furniture for state colleges and institutions.

Judge Wright Bans Off-Track Race Betting

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright signed a temporary restraining order Friday to ban off-track betting at Jefferson Downs race track.

Judge Wright offered Alcide Guidry, the defendant, to show cause on Nov. 1 why the order should not be made permanent. The track's current season opened Sept. 18 and will end Nov. 18.

The order was signed after a petition was filed by Richard B. Montgomery Jr., a trustee for Magnolia Park, now bankrupt. Jefferson Downs leased the Magnolia Park track and pays a rental based on the pari-mutuel handle.

Montgomery contended that Guidry and his associates caused a substantial loss in the Jefferson Downs handle by operating books on races there, thus cutting the amount of rent.

Guidry was the only defendant named, but Judge Wright's order directed that his "associates, agents, confederates or those acting in concert with him" show cause why a permanent injunction should not be issued.

Negroes Booked For Shoplifting

Shoplifting and theft occupied Monroe police Friday. Booked on a warrant for theft was a Negro woman, Myrtis Mae Etheridge, 40, of 214 N. Congo. St. Officers said she was wanted for the theft of a small amount of cash from a restaurant on DeSiard St.

Another Negro woman, Otis Clara Perkins, 23, of 2712 Prospect St., was booked for shoplifting after she was charged with taking a pair of shoes valued at $2 from a United Dollar Store on Catalpa.

In other cases, Lina Mae McElduff, 22, of Routel, Choudrant, was booked for felony theft later in the day, and a 17-year-old Negro girl, Minnie Lee Rodgers, of 111 N. 14th in Monroe, was charged with theft. The girl is being held in lieu of $100 bond.

U.S. Review Is Slated On Aid To Ghana

WASHINGTON (AP)—A review of U.S. proposals to help finance the big Volta Dam project in Ghana will be started next week by a team headed by Clarence Randall, president of Inland Steel Corp., the White House announced Friday.

The review ordered by President Kennedy had been reported in the works for weeks, despite pressure from Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah for a decision. The move was described as a last-minute checkup on details rather than any U.S. backing off from participation.

J. W. Gildner, assistant White House press secretary, said the project is so big and complex that "it is desirable that a last final, hard look be taken at the economic feasibility." Also, he said, some internal problems of Ghana need to be considered.

Success of the project hinges in part upon a $98-million contribution from Ghana, and the Ghanaian government has been having economic troubles.

Britain also is involved in the complicated proposal for the project—which will cost at least $325 million. U.S. government loans discussed so far total about $133 million, Gildner said, along with some help with private financing.

The White House said Randall will leave next Tuesday for Accra, Ghana. He will be accompanied by Abram Chayes, State Department legal adviser; and Harry Shoshan, an executive of the Development Loan Fund.

Randall has helped the government in many missions and was a special assistant to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, would not comment on whether the U.S. review was related to Nkrumah's frequent criticism of U.S. policies. At the recent Belgrade, Yugoslavia, conference of 25 neutral nations, Nkrumah appeared to follow the Moscow line on Berlin, the division of Germany and other world issues.

Gildner told newsmen there has been no change in the situation since Kennedy wrote Nkrumah June 29 that all major issues involved have been solved.

But Kennedy's letter added that the final signing of an agreement did depend upon successful conclusion between Ghana and the World Bank of an agreement to handle some of the financing.

STUPO, VOPO, KRIPO

Police Forces Get Short Nicknames

BERLIN (AP)—Do you know the difference between a Stupo and a Vopo?

What does the Kripo do?

Where would you find a Trapo? No, this is not a new word game.

These are short nicknames given by Germans to police forces in both East and West sections of this heavily policed country.

Almost everybody remembers the Gestapo, the dread secret police of the Nazis.

Its official title was Geheime Staats Polizei—Secret State Police. By taking the letters of each word the Germans made it Gestapo for short.

The same system applies today. The ordinary cop on the beat belongs to the Schutz Polizei. So he's known as a Schupo. The Volks Polizei of Communist East Germany are called Vopos—but not to their faces, because they don't like it.

The controlled press of East Germany refers to West Berlin police as Stupos, because the police chief's name is Stumm.

There's another police force in East Germany that wouldn't win any popularity contest. Members are the black-uniformed transport police who played a big role in stopping the refugee flood by patrolling railroad stations. They are known as Trapos.

The Red border police, the Grenz Polizei, used to be known as Grepos, but they've now been incorporated into the army, so have no separate existence.

One abbreviation is common to both sides—the Kripo.

That stands for Kriminal Polizei, who handle investigation of all serious crime.

Driving Charge Draws $400 Fine In West Monroe

Judge John McCormick in West Monroe municipal court Friday handed down a fine of $400 and costs or 6 months confinement against a 42-year-old West Monroe woman for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Included was a six months suspended jail sentence with a year's probation.

The woman, Elyne Fletcher, of 228 Height St., also drew fines of $100 or 90 days for operating a motor vehicle without a valid state driver's license.

Also for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, Wilbur Bishop, 22, of 607 Vick St., was fined $300 or 90 days.

Conviction for disturbing the peace by appearing in public in an intoxicated condition resulted in $100 or 90 days for W. R. Powell, 49, whose address was listed as the Carolina Hotel in West Monroe. For disturbing the peace by using loud and profane language, Ross Cole, 19, of 105 Lazarre, received a fine of $25 or 30 days, and Dan Collins, 27, of the same address, got $50 or 50 days.

Charles W. Buel, 62, of New Orleans, was fined $25 or 30 days for indecent exposure. Receiving $25 or 30 days for operating a motor vehicle without a valid state driver's license was Marion Evans, 33, of 106 Plum. A 45-year-old Collinston man, Charlie C. Howe, forfeited bond of $25.50 for reckless driving and causing an accident.

In other traffic court activity, Tim Moore, 38-year-old Negro of 106 Green Alley in Monroe, paid $5 and costs for operating a truck on a restricted street. Green 319-A, West Monroe; Luther Reit-Boyd, colored male, 53, of 505 Zell, 29, 711 Trenton St.; George Trenton St. forfeited bond of $3. A. Davis, 33, 1201 Evergreen St.; John Y. ## Mikoyan Says Soviets To Sign Germany Treaty MOSCOW (AP)—Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan told the Soviet party congress Friday nothing can prevent the Soviet Union from concluding a peace treaty with Germany.

"There is no force that could prevent us from realizing this vitally necessary, peaceful settlement," Mikoyan said in a speech reported by Tass news agency.

Mikoyan made no mention of a date for a peace treaty. Premier Khrushchev in his address to the congress earlier this week announced he no longer was setting a year-end deadline for conclusion of a peace treaty with East Germany, if the Western powers show a willingness to settle the German problem.

Walter Ulbricht, of East Germany, told the congress the conclusion of a German peace treaty is a "task which brooks no delay."

violation and $10 for having improper brakes.

Bonds of $5.50 for running red lights were forfeited by: Alva Tim Moore, 38-year-old Negro of 106 Green Alley in Monroe, paid $5 and costs for operating a truck on a restricted street. ## Three Given Sentences In Army Theft

SAINTES, France (UPI)—A French court sentenced two Americans and a Portuguese to prison terms Friday for the theft of $108,590 from a U.S. Army camp in western France.

The three were:

—Barney Butler, 35, of Pittsburgh, cashier of the Fontenot camp which was robbed Sept. 17, 1960.

—Victor Clinto Corbett, 32, of Chicago, described as a stage designer.

—Serge Camal, 29, native of Lourenco Marques in the Portuguese African colony of Mozambique.

The court gave Butler five years and Corbett and Camal four years each.

The court was told that Butler, civilian cashier at the American camp, was the mastermind behind the robbery.

He chose a day when the camp was nearly deserted because of an "alert" exercise to let in Corbett and Camal, the prosecution said.

Only a few days after the robbery police found Butler's share of the loot — $47,983 — at the home of a woman school teacher friend at nearby St. Jean Dangelly. The teacher was allowed to go free.

The investigation and eventual trial were delayed because of the need to track down Corbett and Camal. Both were believed to have fled abroad and Interpol was called in to help.

But Corbett was arrested when he was involved in a minor road accident at Fontainebleau, south of Paris. Last spring Camal was arrested in the West African republic of Liberia.

Blast Injuries Fatal For Man

CHICAGO (UPI)—An explosion that ripped the Helene Curtis Industries cosmetics plant Wednesday, injuring 250 persons and damaging 153 buildings, claimed its first life Friday.

Edward Antosz, 40, a die maker who was working in a Zenith Corp. plant across the street from the cosmetics firm, died in St. Anne's Hospital of a cerebral blood clot.

Antosz suffered a severed neck artery from flying glass when a shock wave from the blast broke 350 windows in the Zenith plant.

PROTEST TITO DEAL

Indignation Group Plans Convention

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Frank McGehee, chairman of the newly organized National Indignation Convention, said today that a "sister convention" will be held Monday night in Houston.

The citizens group was organized to protest the United States selling airplanes to Yugoslavia and for training pilots from the Communist country at Perrin Air Force Base near Sherman, Tex.

It has met in Dallas for the past six nights and is trying to get similar "grass root" organizations going in other cities across the nation. Houston is the first.

Clarence Manion, dean of the Notre Dame law school, told the group Thursday night that the United States should break off diplomatic relations with all Communist nations.

He spoke to the 1,141 persons hooked up to loud speakers.

"Rather than sell arms to the Reds," Manion said, "we might as well get in the grave Khrushchev says he has dug for us."

Manion, loudly cheered by the audience, proposed a three point program: Quit helping our enemies, break off relations with Communist countries, help people in Communist countries who revolt against slavery.

The group also talked to Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., at his home in McAllen.

"I oppose any part of foreign aid to any Communist country," Kilgore said. "But I would be hesitant to say whoever is associated with the plane program should be turned out at this time."

He lauded the group for taking the action it has.

"If any of us go to sleep we can be sure we will not have much left of our freedom," Kilgore said.

McGehee said that the convention has purchased a Texas-size American flag to use at meetings. It is 50-feet by 40-feet, and he said it would be raised for the first time Saturday night.

Rubber Used To Replace Valve In Heart

CHICAGO (AP)—An artificial valve made of Dacron and silicone rubber has proved highly satisfactory in replacing defective human heart valves, two Georgetown University surgeons reported today.

The operation corrects a heart condition caused by a malfunction of the aortic valve.

Drs. Charles A. Hufnagel and Peter W. Conrad of Washington, D.C., described the technique in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The aortic valve is situated at the root of the aorta, the body's main artery. Some persons are born with a defective valve. Disease or injury also can alter the valve.

The heart pumps blood into the aorta and the valve prevents the blood from leaking back into the heart.

The surgeons reported they have replaced defective valves in more than 100 patients. The subjects gained relief from chest pains and labored breathing and were able to return to normal activities, the doctors said.

The artificial valve is sewn or sutured inside the heart or aorta in an operation that takes from 20 minutes to an hour. The body's normal circulation is performed during this time by a heart-lung machine.

Labor Ruling Deals New Blow To Teamsters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Teamsters union suffered another setback Friday in its efforts to prevent loss of membership to competing unions.

The latest blow to Teamster President James R. Hoffa's ambitions came on a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board in refusing to review a dispute over a union election in Cincinnati.

The board upheld a decision by Ohio regional NLRB Director John Getrue that an election should be held Oct. 31 to decide whether approximately 2,000 Teamster dairy drivers in Cincinnati should be represented by the rival Milk and Ice Cream Drivers and Dairy Employees union.

Teamster Local 98 of Cincinnati had appealed Getrue's ruling, asking the NLRB to overturn the decision. The board denied the Teamster appeal petition.

The only legal recourse remaining to the Teamsters is to take the issues to a federal district court in Cincinnati.

The scheduled election is to determine whether about 2,000 out of 4,000 teamsters want to junk their union to join the new rebel labor group formed by James Luken to represent them in collective bargaining with 41 local dairy concerns.

Rayburn entered Baylor Hospital 19 days ago for diagnosis and treatment of incurable cancer.

Tito Official Is Reported To Have Defected

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—One of Yugoslavia's top economic officials was reported Friday to have defected to the United States via Britain.

Reliable sources said that Nenad Popovic, who served as chief of economic affairs in the Foreign Ministry, has decided not to return to his Communist country.

Official sources refused to confirm any defection, saying only that Popovic is presently in the United States.

One report here said he has taken a job teaching international law at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Popovic, 52, took part in negotiations for $275 million in loans and credits extended to Yugoslavia last year by the International Monetary Fund, the United States and several West European countries.

He left with his wife and children in August for a vacation abroad and was due to return early last month. Instead he went to London and embarked for the United States.

Popovic has served as executive director of the Yugoslav national bank and as assistant minister for foreign trade.

THESE NORTHEAST State beauties will be featured in a parade in downtown Shreveport at 2:45 p.m., October 28, when Northeast State begins festivities to the football game in State Fair Stadium at 8 p.m. against the University of Southwestern. From left are queen of the North Louisiana Cotton Festival; Sherry Sims, Miss Wool of the South; Betty Gibbs, first runner-up in the Miss North Louisiana Cotton Festival; and Beverly Sumrall, Forest Festival queen. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith of Oak Ridge. Miss Gibbs is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibbs of Monroe.

Reds Blast Old Leaders At Congress

MOSCOW (AP)—A flood of condemnations directed at old line Stalinists poured out in the 22nd Soviet party congress Friday, indicating possible preparations for new purges.

East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht also got in some shots at his favorite target, West Germany, assailing it as "the main seat of war danger" and reiterating Communist demands for an all-German peace treaty.

Major targets of the session's parade of speakers were the top conspirators in the 1957 plot to unseat Premier Khrushchev—former Premier and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov, ex-Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich and former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov.

The old Bolsheviks have been forced into relative obscurity but the tone of the denunciations suggested worse times may be ahead for them.

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan declared that "during China's Chou En-lai as a brother, in an ideological rift opened up at the congress."

TO BEAN FARMERS

Price - Support Loans Suggested

Soybean producers in Ouachita and surrounding parishes have been urged to consider using price support loans and purchase agreements before selling soybeans at less than support prices this fall.

While the 1961 crop will be at a record level, Department of Agriculture officials stated that demand for soybeans during the marketing year is also shaping up to record proportions.

The support price for soybeans in Ouachita Parish is $2.29 per bushel.

Since harvest has not begun, producers may still have enough time to make arrangements for storage of soybeans or for putting them under price support loans.

There are two approved grain warehouses in Ouachita parish and producers may also obtain a farm storage facility loan from the parish Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Under this program, producers may borrow up to 95 per cent of the outlay for farm storage facilities costing 40 cents per bushel or less to build. The loans run for five years from the date the loan is taken out. The loan may be repaid in four annual installments with the first installment due on the first anniversary date of the loan. The interest rate is four per cent.

While the price support loan fills the need of a producer who requires money at harvest time and who can meet loan storage requirements, purchase agreements, also provide price insurance for others. This is especially true for those who do not need cash immediately and cannot meet the loan storage requirements.

A producer obtains a purchase agreement from the ABC committee by signing a document specifying the maximum amount of soybeans he may elect to sell the Commodity Credit Corporation. CCC agrees to purchase at the county support rate any quantity up to the maximum indicated in the agreement.

263 Blind Get Training In Ouachita Parish

A total of 263 legally blind persons in Ouachita Parish are receiving professional guidance and training under the state Bureau for the Blind and Sight Conservation.

The director of the program, William V. Bridges, Baton Rouge, reported here Thursday night that 147 of this number is white persons and 116 are non-white.

In an address before the West Monroe Lions Club, Bridges said that more than 7,000 legally blind persons are benefiting from the program in Louisiana.

The Bureau for the Blind and Sight Conservation is one of the operating agencies of the Public Welfare Department.

Bridges explained that one of the ways that the bureau benefited these persons was by establishing them at cigarette and sundry stands in various public buildings throughout the state. Legally blind persons are helped to establish stock in these cases and then are "turned loose on their own." He is an independent businessman," Bridges said.

WORKS OUT IN GYM

JFK In Training To Play Golf Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will be working out daily in the small gymnasium close to the White House swimming pool.

He doesn't use any of the bar bells, rowing machines, springs or other mechanical aids that go with a gymnasium. But he is since he strained his back last May at a tree-planting ceremony in Ottawa, Canada. He likes the and contortions designed to game about as much as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's back did before him, and he misses it.

The President went through his So under a course of exercises routine for the first time Thursday prescribed and supervised by a day, with Dr. Kraus looking on. New York expert, Dr. Hans He spent 15 or 20 minutes in the gymnasium and then took a swim in the pool.

The swimming has been almost a daily routine anyway, and now the exercises are being added.

The exercise course will be completed in about two months. That would be just in time for the President's departure for the family home at Palm Beach, Fla., where he traditionally spends the Christmas and New Year holidays. Usually he has gotten in a daily round of golf at Palm Beach.

The exercises also may enable him to start sailing again and diving, instead of lowering himself into the water feet first.

Worship Of 'False God' Is Deplored

NEW YORK (AP) —America Baptist Theological Seminary was diagnosed by a broad cross-section of religious authorities and pleasures are the false gods Friday as being infested with idols.

All sorts of "false gods," the theologians said, are being worshipped.

Among those cited "Financial security, social status, science, our Western way of life, material progress, the welfare state, sex, prestige and self."

"The false gods are obvious," said the Rev. Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, of Union Theological Seminary. "The primary one is physical power and comfort."

In most cases, the church scholars pointed generally to men's belief in their self-sufficiency—in their own skills and possessions—as the basic illusion to which they bow.

"The civilized man, unlike the primitive, dispenses with the intermediary image and makes himself directly the sole object of his own concern," said Prof. John H. Gerstner of Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

But the self-centered modern "gods" were described in the survey, taken by the Protestant journal, "Christianity Today," as bearing various names.

"The gods are many, but no matter how they are called, Zeus or atomic power, Venus or libido, Mars or war, they are natural powers and they are always the same," said the Rev. Gustave Weigel, a Roman Catholic theologian.

"They cannot save, no matter in what era their aid is sought," America's "standard of living" was singled out by Prof. W. Stanford Reid of McGill University, as the "principal false god of our time."

"We are so concerned with material possessions that we forget they are the gift of God and that there are other things more important," he said.

In the survey, 25 theologians, representing a wide range of denominational views and institutions, offered their analysis of present-day idols.

Swiss theologian Karl Barth said the church itself harbored false gods.

"The church has succumbed to the temptation to believe in the goodness and power of her own tradition, morality and religious activity," he said. "So the church has come to believe in images of man, of the world, and of God which she has fabricated of her own means."

The Rev. Dr. Edward J. Carnell of Fuller Theological Seminary, named the vanities of power, drawn from scientific advances, and of pleasure, derived from material prosperity.

Prof. Gordon H. Clark of Butler University, cited "the secular, anti-Christian welfare state."

"The false gods of our age are scientism, communism, and political democracy," said Dr. Carl F. H. Henry, editor of Christianity today. "All trust man's warped passions to shape a paradise on earth."

The Rev. Dr. Harold B. Kuhn of Asbury Theological Seminary, said today's "most tempting absolute is 'our Western way of life' or 'life in the free world,' or 'the best standard of living man has ever known,' or simply 'our liberties'."

"Money, status, security, health and even social adjustment" were cited by Profm Addison H. Leitch, of Tarkio College.

"The most serious idol of today is the status quo," said the Rev. Dr. Warren C. Young of Northern ALTO, Ga. (UPI)—There's a patriotic crisis at the Georgia Industrial Institute, a rehabilitation school for juveniles. The American flag flies no more.

Superintendent Walter Matthews explained that the regular flag raiser accidentally pulled the line through the pulley at the top of the pole. Apparently this kind of accident happens quite often because the school has one boy trained to shinny up the pole and replace the flag line.

The trouble this time, Matthews said, was that the flagpole shiny expert recently broke his leg playing football.

Guatemala Fears Castro Invasion

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY UPI Latin American Editor

New political storm warnings were raised Friday in the Caribbean where Guatemala charged Fidel Castro's Cuba is preparing an invasion masterminded by Moscow and Peking.

In South America, revolutionary clouds dissipated somewhat but the governments of Ecuador and Bolivia remained alert for new disorders.

The Dominican Republic had its first trouble-free day in a week but several hundred youths took over a small section of downtown Ciudad Trujillo and proclaimed it "free territory."

Police stayed away from the area, apparently to avoid renewed street clashes. Three members of the Trujillo family prepared to leave the country in an apparent new government effort to ease political tension.

The Castro regime brushed off the Guatemalan aggression charges and launched a new propaganda offensive against the United States.

Guatemalan invasion fears were not new but for the first time the Manuel Ydigoras Fuenteblanca regime spelled out its intelligence-fied form of martial law—proclamation. A presidential palace announcement said the Cubans were planning sweeps by Soviet-made jets across the nation "to President Hernan Siles Suazo, now terror among the people."

Newspaper Advertising Brings Reader Response...through Buying Action!

More buying action results from newspaper advertising because of the atmosphere of believability. You've heard people say, "I know it's true, it's in the papers." The printed word has always been accepted as more honest and binding.

Newspapers report facts; other media offer entertainment. Your advertising in an atmosphere of believability is bound to induce more "want-to-buy" action than that framed in fiction or entertainment.

WORKS OUT IN GYM

JFK In Training To Play Golf Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will be working out daily in the small gymnasium close to the White House swimming pool.

He doesn't use any of the bar bells, rowing machines, springs or other mechanical aids that go with a gymnasium. But he is twisting, turning and tugging in a well-planned series of movements and contortions designed to strengthen his muscular system and the back.

The President went through his routine for the first time Thursday, with Dr. Kraus looking on. He spent 15 or 20 minutes in the gymnasium and then took a swim in the pool.

The swimming has been almost a daily routine anyway, and now the exercises are being added.

The exercise course will be completed in about two months. That would be just in time for the President's departure for the family home at Palm Beach, Fla., where he traditionally spends the Christmas and New Year holidays. Usually he has gotten in a daily round of golf at Palm Beach.

The exercises also may enable him to start sailing again and diving, instead of lowering himself into the water feet first.

SNAP 3-GAME LOSS STREAK

Ouachita Upsets Favored Fair Park Indians By 7-3

By WAYNE KING
World Sports Writer

Ouachita Parish's fired-up Lions snapped a three-game losing streak here last night by defeating the Fair Park Indians 7-3 in a District 1-AAA battle.

Coach Bob Ellen's Lions sur-ing the Lions possession on their three yards, and then tried right guard but was stopped for no gain.

This time Ouachita got its offense rolling enough to stage a mild threat that carried to Fair Park's 27 before the Indian defense could stop the Lions.

Ouachita's scrappy defense stymied Fair Park again and the Indians were forced to punt on the fourth down.

A backfield in motion penalty was the big difference. He stopped the Lions and Jack Trimble dropped back to punt on fourth for 30 yards. Fair Park comdown with the Lions still needed only two of six passes that netted a mere four yards.

However the snap from center sailed over Trimble's head and rolled to the eight before he could catch up with it. He returned it to the 15 and was cut down by the on-rushing Indians.

Quarterback Jack Hatcher threw an incomplete pass on first in the final stanza, but the drive down, but hit halfback Jerry Lindsey who was stopped for no gain by Johnny Butler on the second try.

On third down Eddie DeHondt picked up five yards to bring up fourth and five needed on the 10. Carpenter booted a 28-yard field goal to put the Indians ahead 3-0 yard stripe.

At this point Carpenter came into the game with his strong leg. Hatcher held and Carpenter edged the field goal from the 18 to 30 and put Fair Park ahead 3-0 with 4:30 showing on the clock.

Ouachita took the kickoff on their own 40 yard stripe and moved 60 yards in only seven plays with halfback Butch Oglesbee carried for the final three yards and the only touchdown of the night. The play stopped the clock with only 1:20 left in the first half. Warner added the extra point to make the score 7-3 in Ouachita's favor.

Ouachita took the opening kick off, but on the second play from scrimmage halfback Kenneth Slusher was jarred loose from the ball and Joe Huffman fell on the loose nicks on the Lions' 25.

Neither team could get their offense thawed out and after an exchange of punts Ouachita first owned the ball on their own 30.

On the draw to keep the Indians defense honest for passes. Once again Warner dropped the ball and Frank Neel recovered back to pass, and fired a strike to Butch Oglesbee who battled his way down to the five with another yard in three plays and a fourth first down.

The Indians managed only four yards in three plays and a fourth first down pass fell incomplete, giving Ouachita a fourth down.

FIRST HALF

Bastrop took the opening kickoff and set up operation on the 22 yardline. Scott Rawls gained one yard on the first play, and then Pete Perot carried twice in succession for a total of seven yards. On fourth down and needing two yards Ricky Head booted a forty yard kick of the Rebel 35.

Big J. U. Linder carried on first down and picked up three yards. Then on second down at the 38 Van Zile got the nod and the speed merchant paid off handsomely as he picked his way 62 yards for the score.

The try for extra point failed. Bastrop took the following kickoff, but failed to move the ball and had to kick to the Rebels.

West Monroe took over on their own 32 and from there started their longest drive of the night. The drive carried down to the Bastrop 15 before losing the ball on downs. It consumed 11 minutes.

Rebels After No. 1 Spot Against Wave

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's air-minded Rebels, whose aerial antics have already gone into Southeastern Conference records, will seek to use defensively tough Tulane Saturday night as a springboard to No. 1 national ranking.

Ole Miss, unhappy with a drop to No. 2 spot in the rankings this week, has hopes for moving upward again at the expense of Tulane and running its unbeaten string to 20 straight games over three seasons.

The 1961 Rebels, who are convincing a growing group they are the best in the school's fine athletic history, are powered by three quarterbacks with deadly passing arms.

Starting senior Doug Elmore, who has made fans all but forget a graduated all-America Jake Gibbs, junior Clayton Griffing and sophomore Perry Lee Dunn have combined to hit on a remarkable 65.1 per cent of their passes.

Last week, as Ole Miss smashed a good Houston team 47-7, they clicked for 351 yards for a new SEC record, with Elmore completing all five throws, Griffing nine of 13 and Dunn two of three. The 773 yards in four games has the team well on its way to breaking the school season record of 1,554 yards passing by the Gibbs-powered 1960 team and the 1,495 yards of the Charley Conerly-powered 1947 squad.

Making the passing so successful is a fine running game which shows power up the middle from fullback, where Billy Ray Adams is the ace, and sped around ends from halfback.

Tulane, which has gained a reputation as a good defensive team with an erratic offense, lost close to a touchdown game to Mississippi last week.

The Green Wave is a four-touchdown underdog for the 8 p.m. (CST) game, which is expected to attract about 30,000 to the new Mississippi Memorial Stadium here.

Wilt Scores 57 In 122-115 Win Over LA Lakers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain broke his own Convention Hall scoring record Friday by pouring in 57 points to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 122-115 home opening National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Despite Wilt's work, it was an 11-point spurge in the first two minutes of the final period that won the game for the Warriors.

After leading most of the first three periods, Philadelphia saw a 12-point margin sliced to two in the last 6½ minutes of the third period.

The Warriors opened the final period with seven quick-handed steals and driving layup shots, scoring 11 points before the Lakers broke the streak. It was never any closer than six points after that.

Jerry West led the Lakers with 36, two more than teammate Elgin Baylor.

Carroll Bags 34-21 Victory Over Coleman

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe came from behind to rounce Coleman High of Greenville, Miss., 34 to 21, in a football battle at Carroll Stadium here last night.

Early in the first quarter Coleman took the lead when A. C. Thomas took a 25-yard touchdown pass.

Late in the second quarter the Bulldogs came to life with a pass completion from Walter Thompson to Columbus Gray for the tying touchdown, and the half ended with the score tied 6-6.

In the third quarter Joe Everett scored a Carroll TD and Walter Thompson added the point.

The fourth quarter came with a big boom as quarterback Thompson sneaked over and he added the point.

Being rushed, quarterback Scott of Coleman fumbled the ball and Carroll recovered. Henry Brown carried over for the Carroll touchdown, and Thompson converted again.

Coleman came back with fire as Thomas scampered 80 yards for a TD.

In the closing minutes of the game Vernon Randolph thrilled the crowd as he intercepted a pass and ran 75 yards for a Carroll TD. Thompson converted.

Starting on defense for the Bulldogs were Willie Wade, David Smith, John Bowman, Thomas Harvey, Julian Gray.

after Detroit had gone ahead late in the third period.

Gross, No. 2 among the nation's total offense leaders, hit Vargo with three scoring passes of 6, 10 and 26 yards.

The touchdown that won for the Middles was a 27-yarder from Klemick to halfback Carl Fink. Navy quickly added two more scores, one on Klemick's 25-yard pass to Gary Kellner.

The first time Navy had the ball, Klemick pitched a 30-yard pass to Jim Stewart. The long pass set up the first of Mather's field goals, a 37-yarder.

Next time the Middles had the ball, Johnny Sal, a chunky halfback, broke around right end, shook off two tacklers and skipped down the right sidelines 74 yards for a touchdown.

Mather then booted a 31-yard field goal early in the second quarter before Detroit started the battle of comebacks.

The Titans, driving against the clock in the final two minutes of the first half, went 75 yards in 10 plays. Gross threw eight straight passes and the last six were complete. Vargo made a diving catch of a floater in the end zone 34 seconds before the half time gun.

Mather booted another 31-yard three-pointer early in the third quarter. Gross again fired up the Titans and they moved to two quick touchdowns before the period ended.

SNAP 3-GAME LOSS STREAK

Ouachita Upsets Favored Fair Park Indians By 7-3

By WAYNE KING
World Sports Writer
Ouchita Parish's fired-up Lions snapped a three-game losing streak here last night by defeating the Fair Park Indians 7-3 in a District 1-AAA battle.

Coach Bob Ellen's Lions survived a severe case of fumbles, losing three of four fumbles, and fought back strong to come from behind and take the victory. Besides the fumbles, Ouchita also lost the ball once on a pass interception and a bad snap from center on a punting situation set up Fair Park's field goal in the second quarter.

OUCHITA FAIR PARK
First Downs	7 12
Yards Rushing	63 123
Yards Passing	90 15
Total Offense	153 138
Passes Comp.	8-15 4-11
Passes Inter.	1 1
Fumbles Lost	3 1
Punt Avg.	43.8 42.0
Penalties	3-15 2-10

After the bad snap, Fair Park took over on Ouchita's 15-yard line with 5:55 remaining in the first half. Four plays later Link Carpenter booted a 28-yard field goal to put the Indians ahead 3-0 with 4:30 playing time remaining in the second period.

Ouchita took the kickoff on their own 40 yard stripe and moved 60 yards in only seven plays with halfback Butch Oglesbee carried for the final three yards and the only touchdown of the night. The play stopped the clock with only 1:20 left in the first half. Warner added the extra point to make the score 7-3 in Ouchita's favor.

Ouchita took the opening kickoff, but on the second play from scrimmage halfback Kenneth Slusher was jarred loose from the ball and Joe Huffman fell on the line piskin on the Lions' 35. Neither team could get their offense thawed out and after an exchange of punts Ouchita owned the ball on their own 30-yard marker.

Again the fumble-bug bit — this time Billy Bryant lost the ball and Frank Neel recovered for Fair Park.

The Indians managed only four yards in three plays and a fourth down pass fell incomplete, giving the Lions possession on their three yards, and then tried right guard but was stopped for no gain.

On the next play Warner handed off to Oglesbee who scampered through left tackle and into the endzone for the TD.

Oglesbee then held and Warner booted the extra point to make the score read 7-3.

In the first half Warner's passing was the big difference. He connected on eight of 11 attempts for 90 yards. Fair Park completed only two of six passes that netted a mere four yards.

The second half was a defensive battle all the way with neither team mustering a substantial drive.

Fair Park put together the most serious threat when they reached the Lions' 30 yard stripe early in the final stanza, but the drive was killed by the Indians' only fumble of the night.

Other than the strong defensive play by the Lions, an important factor in Ouchita's win was the fine punting by Trimble. Trimble punted four times for a 39.8 average to keep the Indians in their own territory.

On offense it was Via, who carried 11 times for 35 yards on the ground and Oglesbee, who hauled in three passes for 31 yards in the air.

Fair Park's leading rushers were DeFord who picked up 70 yards on 15 tries and Steve Cryer who gained 40 yards in 13 attempts.

"It was a real team effort," a pleased and smiling Coach Ellen said in the Lions' dressing room shortly after the game ended.

"I thought all the kids played well, especially on defense," he pointed out. And our defense really saved us. The defense had to hold up especially with as many fumbles as lost."

The Lions yielded the ball three times on fumbles to place added strain on their defense and keep their own offense sputtering.

"Above all, the thing that made me feel good was that the boys worked hard all the way," Coach Ellen added. "Seemed like when we made a mistake they just worked that much harder."

Barbara White Is Golf Winner

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Barbara Fay White of Shreveport finally brought her wayward putter into tow Friday and routed Mrs. Hugh Barnett of Gulf Hills, Miss., 8 and 7 to win the 11th-and-final-Deep South Women's golf tournament.

The pretty 21-year-old junior at Texas Christian University, ended the 36-hole final round on the 29th hole when she dropped a four-foot putt for a par.

Miss White built up most of her winning margin on the second nine of the morning round where she won six holes and halved the other three with her tall, slim opponent.

"I've never won much of anything until today," said Miss White, a Shreveport professional's daughter and now the most promising girl golfer in the state.

The directors of the Deep South voted to end the tournament, because of lack of interest. However, much of the same field will play in the inaugural Gulf Hills Invitational at Ocean Springs, Miss., next fall.

BETTER LATE THAN — DETROIT (UPI)—Joe Schmidt veteran linebacker on the Detroit Lions, failed to score a touchdown for seven years but got two in the 1960 season, one on a pass interception and the other on a fumble recovery.

"This has been the story of our life this season—play hard and still get beat," Fair Park Coach Roy Wilson quietly pointed out. "We couldn't seem to muster enough offense at the right time to keep a drive going."

"Those two offside penalties late in the game especially hurt us, because it looked like we had a good drive going," Coch Wil-son commented.

Ironically, the two penalties which came on successive plays on which the Indians completed passes on both occasions were the only two stepped off against Fair Park during the entire game.

On the next play Warner handed off to Oglesbee who scampered through left tackle and into the endzone for the TD.

The West Monroe Rebels battled their way back into the thick of the 1-AAA race last night with a 15-6 decision over the Bastrop Rams.

The important victory pushed the Rebels back into contention for the league lead with Woodlawn and Bossier City. The Knights have a 4-1 mark, West Monroe is 2-1 and Bossier City has a 1-1 record.

West Monroe turned loose their two speedy halfbacks, Woody Woodcock and Charlie Van Zile, in the first half to gain a 13-0 lead, and then held off the battling Rams in the final two quarters to gain the win.

With only 3:67 game in the first quarter Van Zile took a handoff from quarterback Fred Newton, found running room on the right side of the line, and set sail for a 62-yard touchdown to give the Rebels a lead they never relinquished.

Then in the second quarter facing a third and six situation on the Rebls own 10 yardline, Newton gave to Woodcock on a cross buck and the little halfback quickly cut to the left sideline and out ran everybody for a 90 yard touchdown and West Monroe's only other TD of the night.

The score came with 3:42 seconds left in the second quarter and after end Richard Jones kicked the extra point West Monroe had their 13-0 half time lead.

Bastrop's only score of the night came with 2:11 left in the final quarter on an eight yard pass from quarterback Edward Worley to end David Whitworth.

Following the score Bastrop tried an unsuccessful on side kick and West Monroe took over on the Bastrop 43. After failing to move, Van Zile punted out of bounds on the seven yardline.

On the first play Worley tried the old statue of liberty play but fumbled the ball in the end zone. He recovered the fumble but West

Carroll Bags 34-21 Victory Over Coleman

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe came from behind to rounce Coleman High of Greenville, Miss., 34 to 21, in a football battle at Carroll Stadium here last night.

Early in the first quarter Coleman took the lead when A. C. Thomas took a 25-yard touchdown pass.

Late in the second quarter the Bulldogs came to life with a pass completion from Walter Thompson to Columbus Gray for the tying touchdown, and the half ended with the score tied 6-6.

In the third quarter Joe Everett scored a Carroll TD and Walter Thompson added the point.

After being thrown for a loss on the first play, Worley found Whitworth in the open on the nine and hit him good for a first and goal.

From there the Rebels held Bastrop to four yards in four downs mostly on the tremendous defensive play of Jewel McBroom.

After taking over on the six, Liner got four yards in two tries and leave the Rebels needing six for a first down. But West Monroe got much more than the six needed for a first when Woodcock found running room on the left sideline and sped 90 yards for a six point play. Jones kicked successfully and the Rebels led 13-0.

SECOND HALF

The second half settled down into much more of a defensive battle and the Rams actually came out on top but not enough for victory.

Following a scoreless third quarter the Rams got possession of the ball on their own 15 and started their only scoring drive of the night.

Billy Deville, the Rams outstanding fullback, ate up much of the yardage in the drive just as he did the whole night.

After Deville went eight yards to give Bastrop a first down on the West Monroe 49, Rawls got loose for 30 yards to push the ball down to the 19.

Worley went to work then and got the Rams a first and goal on the eight. He passed to Deville for four on third down, and on fourth down picked up seven yards on a keeper play for the first.

After no gain on the first play, Worley found Whitworth open in the end zone and the rangy end made a fine catch for Bastrop's only score of the night.

West Monroe got its final two points with only 29 seconds left in the game when Worley fumbled in the end zone and fell on it.

McBroom and Butch LaBrano led a fine defensive effort for the Rebels, and Liner, Van Zile, and Woodcock picked up most of the yards on the ground.

Rebels After No. 1 Spot Against Wave

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's air-minded Rebels, whose aerial antics have already gone into Southeastern Conference records, will seek to use defensively tough Tulane Saturday night as a springboard to No. 1 national ranking.

Ole Miss, unhappy with a drop to No. 2 spot in the rankings this week, has hopes for moving upward again at the expense of Tulane and running its unbeaten string to 20 straight games over three seasons.

The 1961 rebels, who are convincing a growing group they are the best in the school's fine athletic history, are powered by three quarterbacks with deadly passing arms.

Starting senior Doug Elmore, who has made fans all but forget graduated all-America Jake Gibbs, junior Glynn Griffing and sophomore Perry Lee Dunn have combined to hit on a remarkable 65.1 per cent of their passes.

Last week, as Ole Miss smashed a good Houston team 47-7, they clicked for 351 yards for a new SEC record, with Elmore completing all five throws, Griffing nine of 13 and Dunn two of three. The 773 yards in four games has the team well on its way to breaking the school season record of 1,554 yards passing by the Gibbs-powered 1960 team and the 1,495 yards of the Charley Conerly-powered 1947 squad.

Making the passing game successful is a fine running game which shows power up the middle from fullback, where Billy Ray Adams is the ace, and sped around ends from halfback.

Tulane, which has gained a reputation as a good defensive team with an erratic offense, lost close decisions to Alabama, Stanford, and Florida and beat Virginia Tech 27-14 last week. Ole Miss victories are over Arkansas, Kentucky, Florida State and Houston.

The Green Wave is a four-touchdown underdog for the 5 p.m. (CST) game, which is expected to attract about 30,000 to the new Mississippi Memorial Stadium here.

Wilt Scores 57 In 122-115 Win Over LA Lakers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain broke his own Convention Hall scoring record Friday by pouring in 57 points to lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 122-115 home opening National Basketball Association victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

Despite Wilt's work, it was an 11-point spurge in the first two minutes of the final period that won the game for the Warriors. After leading most of the first three periods, Philadelphia saw a 12-point margin sliced to two in the last 6½ minutes of the third period.

The Warriors opened the final period with seven quick-handed steals and driving layup shots, scoring 11 points before the Lakers broke the streak. It was never any closer than six points after that.

Jerry West led the Lakers with 36, two more than teammate Elgin Baylor.

Rowan Fourth Coach

Jack Rowan is only the fourth head football coach in the history of Northeast State. J. Paul Kemmerer, a graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan, coached at Northeast for three seasons when the school was a junior college. James L. Malone coached at the Monroe college for 20 years. Devone Payne was head coach for four years and Rowan became head grid coach and athletic director in 1958.

AT BROWN STADIUM

Indians Encounter Lions In Offensive Duel Tonight

The Gulf States Conference's attention during this week's two top ground attacks ploy into each other tonight in Brown Stadium when undefeated Southeastern and erratic but dangerous Northeast State meet at 8 p.m.

Stan Galloway's Southeastern Lions are ranked third in NCAA small college rushing statistics with 1,546 yards, an average of 309.2 a game. The felines, in chewing up five opponents, have scored 123 points and allowed only 17, fewest number of points scored against a GSC member this campaign.

Ranked third among small colleges in the Associated Press poll, fourth by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and sixth by United Press International, the Lions are aiming for at least a share of the GSC title for the second year in a row. Southeastern lost only once last fall and tied for first in the GSC. The team has won its only conference game of the season, a 27-0 decision over Southwestern. Northeast's rushing total is far behind Southeastern's but is impressive nonetheless. Jack Roderick, Joel Smith and Billy Wan's Indians have rolled for 1,101 yards on the ground this season, an average of 220.2 per game. This total is high enough to rank second in the GSC and 29th among NCAA schools.

Northeast has been more air-minded than Southeastern. The Tribe has passed 54 times while Southeastern has rarely gone to the air. Northeast has completed 24 of its tosses for 345 yards, a 30.1 average, third best in the GSC.

Three Northeast players will be limited to spot duty in the game. Halfback Gordon Salsman will be restricted to punting because of leg injuries, halfback Dean Mann is hobbled by a charley horse and end Dewey Smith has a bruised hip.

The probable starting lineups:

Southeastern Pos. Larry King (200) LT Paul Alexander (195) LG Carroll Goulas (190) C Billy Johnson (205) RG Sam Gourrier (190) RE RT Monty Crook (185) QB Elbert Harris (185) HLB Wilbur Derrick (190) RHB Joel Smith (175) FB Darryl Morris (190)

Leading man in Northeast's ground attack has been fullback Willie Ragan, the club's top rusher with 69 yards. Ragan's 5.7 average is third highest in conference game of the season, has 173 yards and halfback Al Ott has 103.

The leading chargers for Southeastern have been Al-GSC Wilbur Roderick, Joel Smith and Billy Wan's Indians have rolled for 1,101 yards on the ground this season, an average of 220.2 per game. This total is high enough to rank second in the GSC and 29th among NCAA schools.

Unbeaten Bama Will Meet Vols In Legion Field

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The largest crowd ever to see a football game in Alabama will jam Legion Field Saturday for the traditional meeting of Alabama and Tennessee.

The Crimson Tide, unbeaten and ranked fifth nationally, is favored by a touchdown, but Alabama hasn't beaten Tennessee since 1954.

Perfect football weather, with clear skies and temperatures around 68 degrees is forecast. An estimated 53,000 fans are expected to fill the newly enlarged stadium.

Alabama's quarterback will be Pat Trammell, who gained 250 yards rushing in four games and completed 27 passes for 393 yards and four touchdowns.

The Crimson Tide, yielding an average of only 46.3 yards per game, will stack the nation's leading rushing defense against the Vols. Alabama is second in total defense, with an average of 119.3 yards.

But Alabama's star fullback, Mike Fracchia, has an injured knee and will not start. Coach Paul Bryant says if he plays, he won't be at full strength.

Tommy Brooker, an Alabama first-string end, also is out with injuries.

Bryant has picked Butch Henry as a probable starter for Brooker and Larry (Dink) Wall for Fracchia.

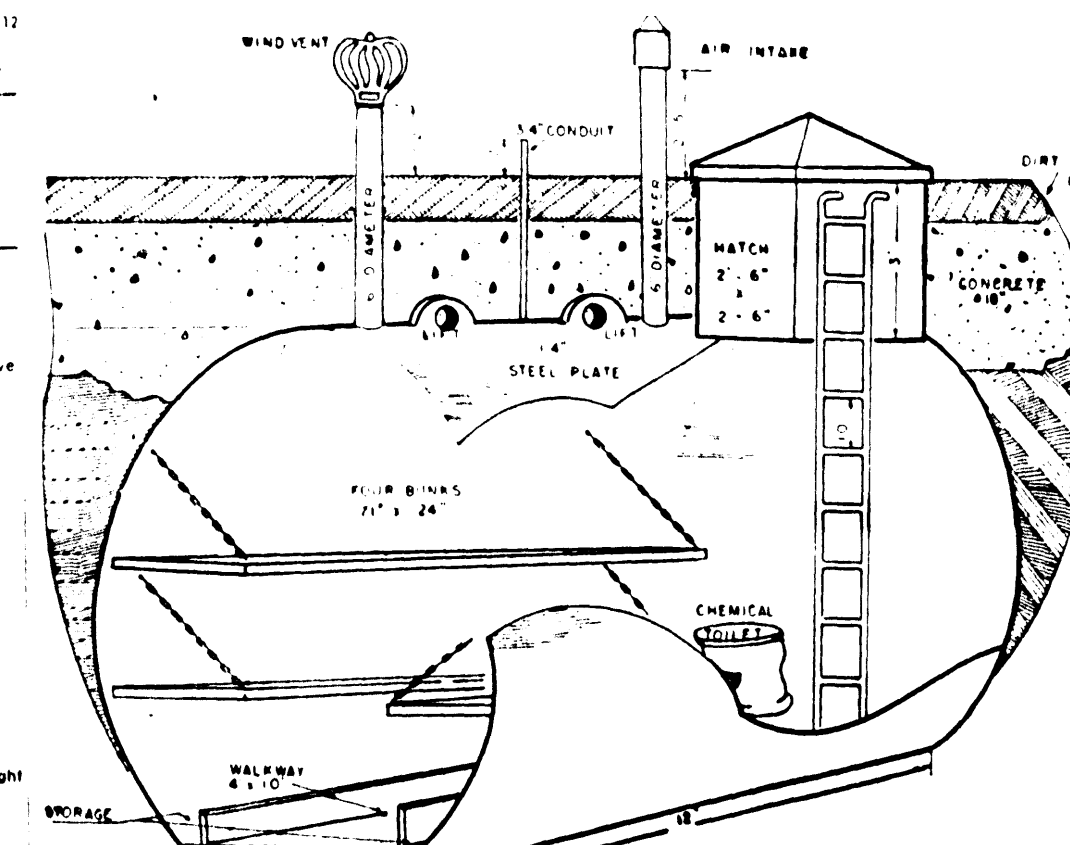

The Vols arrived Friday afternoon without fullback J. W. Carter, who went out of action in the Tulsa game last week. Senior Bunny Orr will be his replacement.

Tennessee, after a season-opening loss to Auburn, has won from Mississippi State and Tulsa.

Alabama has taken four in a row—Georgia, Tulane, Vanderbilt and North Carolina State.

Kelso Draws Only 2 Rivals For Gold Cup

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The nation's name horses apparently have seen all they want of Kelso, 1960 Horse of the Year and leading candidate for the same honor this year.

Unless some owner or trainer has a change of mind, the 4-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable will be opposed by only two very lightly regarded rivals in the 2 million $100,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct Saturday.

The Gold Cup is the richest race on Saturday's national program. But with lack of worthy opposition for Kelso, the chief interest will be in the $75,000-added Gardenia Stakes for 2-year-old fillies at Garden State Park. It'll fillies at Garden State Park. It'll fillies at Garden State Park.

Match the Cicada and King Ranch's Tamara, at 1-11-6 miles. Rounding out the feature card are the $25,000-added Breeders Futurity at Keeneland, the $20,000-added Bay Meadows Handicap at Bay Meadows, the $60,000 Canadian Handicap at Woodbine and the $10,000-added Snare Cap at Sportsman's Park.

Kelso goes into the Gold Cup with a record of 15 victories in 19 starts and a bankroll of $637,485. This year he has won six of seven races, including the New York Metropolitan, Suburban and Brooklyn, and the Woodward Stakes—all $100,000 plus events.

Under weight-for-age conditions of the Gold Cup, Kelso will carry 126 pounds, a feather for him. He'll be ridden by Eddie Arcaro. He'll be ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

His two expected rivals, Bruno Ferrari's Uruguayan stallion, Zumbador II, and Peter Fuller's Hillsborough, also will pack 126 each. Zumbador enters the race with the qualifications of having defeated Tompkins in the recent Lafayette Handicap at Keeneland.

Cicada, whose earnings of $287,545 top a 2-year-old filly in the American turf history, is a strong favorite for the Gardenia. She has won 10 of her 15 starts. If she starts, the race will be worth $162,885 with $97,731 going to the winner.

Willie Shoemaker rides Cicada and Johnny Sellers, the nation's leading jockey, will be on the Tamarona.

Nine are tagged to go in the 1 3-16 miles of the Narragansett Special with Ben Weiner's 3-year-old Orleanes Doge, the choice under der top weight of 123 pounds. The son of the Doge has won nine races this year, including last Saturday's Governor's Handicap at Narragansett.

The race also will mark the American debut of English-bred Eustrom Hope. This son of 1954 Epsom Derby winner, Never Say Die, has been assigned 108 pounds.

Seven, and perhaps, nine, 2-year-olds are slated for Keeneland's closing day feature, The Brandywine Stable's Gree Money is the probable choice with Jurisprudence, Times Rone, and Roman Line next in line. All carry 122 pounds.

Prompt Hero carries the chief top weight of 126 pounds.

Canadian hopes against such proven U.S. grass runners as Wolfram, Our Jeep and Harmonizing in the Woodbine Stakes. No Canadian horse has won the race since 1953.

Tondi picks up top weight of 122 pounds in Sportsman's Park's 6 1/2-furlong feature. The Bay Meadows handicap is a 1 1/4-mile affair with a probable field of 14. The likely favorite is Lynn Boice's Physician, who picks up top weight of 126 pounds.

Passing was Mangham's strong point. The Dragons either set up or scored all their touchdowns on passes.

Mangham led in first downs, 13-9.

32 Tech Gridders Will Be At Home

RUSTON, La., (Special) — A large number of Louisiana Tech's football players will be performing before the home folks Saturday night when the Bulldogs take on Northwestern State in the annual state fair game in Shreveport.

Thirty-two members of the Tech squad are from the Shreveport area, seven of them from Shreveport and Bossier City.

Tech began to ease up in practice sessions earlier in the week as Coach Joe Aillet gives his players time to recuperate from three straight hard battles before meeting the Demons. Tech has several players ailing but expected to see action this weekend.

Technicians from Shreveport and Bossier City include halfbacks Paul Labenne and Jack Odum, guards Pat Collins, Richard Enis, and Ray Burroughs, and tackles Jim Willis and David Bass. All are from Shreveport except Bossier's Enis.

Saturday Is Do Or Die For SEC 11s

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This is a do-or-die weekend for Southeastern Conference teams—with the results of the games spelling out the kind of season they will have.

This is especially true in Baton Rouge, where Kentucky meets Louisiana State; in Birmingham, Ala., where Alabama-Tennessee college battle; and in Atlanta, where Auburn and Georgia Tech collide in an afternoon tilt followed by the Georgia-Mississippi State game at night.

LSU will have to keep its SEC winning ways to have a chance at the title, and it knows Kentucky will bring a tough defense and a potent passing game into the night fray. For the Wildcats, a victory over the Tigers would put them in the upper bracket since they already have conquered Auburn.

Tennessee bowed to Auburn, but will be out to keep its jinx over the Crimson Tide. Alabama hasn't won over the Vols since 1954 and a loss in Saturday afternoon's regional televised game undoubtedly would dump the Tide from the nation's top ten.

Georgia Tech also has a national ranking on the line in its game with Auburn. The Yellow Jackets are rated No. 8. The Tigers have their break-away runner, Jimmy Burson, back at full speed and Tech may be without its chief threat, Billy Williamson.

Mississippi, ranked second nationally, is a heavy choice to continue undefeated. The Rebels added a one-over-par 72 to hising defense of the Americas Cup are four-touchdown favorites over Tulane in the night game at Jack-

Florida and Vanderbilt meet in a night game at Nashville and the Gators are favored despite the loss of several front line players this season, including halfback and Bob Hoover.

In the night attraction at Atlanta, the Bulldogs are six-point favorites—the Bulldogs of Mississippi State, that is. Georgia has lost three of four.

Jessen, Suggs Get Early Lead In Civitan Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Ruth Jessen and Louise Suggs fired two-under-par 69s Friday to grab the first round lead in the $7,500 Civitan Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Jessen, the first of the touring professionals to tee off, came within a stroke of the women's record for the back nine as she posted a 38-31 on the 6,217-yard Brackenridge Park course.

Her round included birdie putts on the 10th, 11th, 14th and 16th holes to compensate for bogies on the 1st and 8th holes.

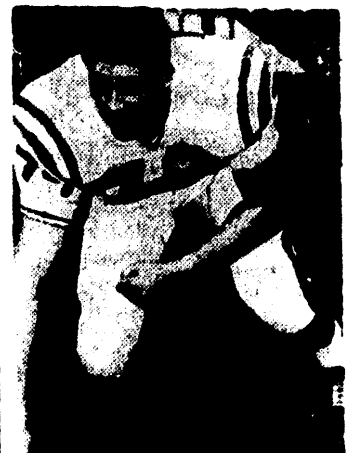

Miss Suggs, the defending champion and last to tee off, saw her chances for an unchallenged lead cancelled by three-putt performances on the 10th and 16th greens.

Marilyn Smith came in a stroke back at 36-er-70, the days only other sub-par score. She turned in what was probably the day's most consistent round, hitting 17 greens, using 34 putts and picking up a stroke on par with a 4-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole.

Mickey Wright, the leading money winner of the year, had what she called a "dull" round, she shot a 75.

She took bogies on three of the par three holes and had a double bogey on the 16th when her tee shot lodged against a fallen tree branch and she popped her second shot into a creek.

Southeastern Setting Fast Pace In GSC

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — As might be expected, Southeastern Louisiana's undefeated and untied Lions are setting a fast offensive pace in the 1961 Gulf States conference football campaign.

The Lions, with five straight victories to their credit, are leading the six-team circuit both in total offense and in rushing offense.

Coach Stan Galloway's smooth-working squad has rolled up 1,767 yards in five games to date, an average of 353.4 yards per game.

Of that total, 1,246 yards came from the ground forces, or an average of 5.4 yards per carry for 264 carries with the ball.

Both marks are good enough to lead the league at the season's halfway mark.

Northwestern's Demons are second in total offense with an average of 306.6 yards per game. Northeast is the second place team in rushing offense, with a 4.4 average for 248 carries.

Louisiana Tech has been the most effective forward passing team. The Bulldogs have completed 46 aerials in 69 attempts for 322 yards and five touchdowns.

Northwestern has the second best completion mark with 34, while McNeese is third, with 29. Louisiana Tech is also the team leader in punting. In 25 punts, Tech kickers have average 41.1 yards per try. McNeese is in the runnerup spot with a 38.8 average for 21 boots.

Nicklaus To Help Defend American Cup

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — U.S. champion Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, and Dudley Wyndman III of Philadelphia and Bob Gardner of Spring Lake, N.J., will form the No. 1 team teeing off at 10:30 a.m. EST in matches in which players get alternate shots.

They face Canada's 44-year-old Nick Westlock and Robert Wyllie and Mexico's Mauricio Urdaneta and Rafael Quiroz.

The other team pairings: Second match—U.S., Bill Hyndman III of Philadelphia and Bob Gardner of Spring Lake, N.J.; Canada, Bert Tichhurst and Gary Cowan; Mexico, Juan Antonio Estrada and Enrique Farias, Jr.

Third match—U.S., Deane Belman of Bethesda, Md., and Charles Smith of Gastonia, N.C.; Canada, Keith Alexander and John Johnston; Mexico, Roberto Halpern and Hector Alvarez.

Charley Cox of Oklahoma City, U.S. captain, benched himself for the 18-hole team matches but planned to play in one of the individual contests in the afternoon. These lineups do not have to be announced until after the tea matches.

A similar schedule, with a possible lineup changes, is scheduled Sunday over the 7,063-yard par 72 Club Campestre course. The team amassing the most points over the two days is the winner. One point is awarded for each victory.

Jayhawks Meet Oklahoma Today For 59th Time

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Kansas and Oklahoma meet Saturday for the 59th time and both are trying to break out of the doldrums of losing football.

Kansas, which tied Oklahoma at Lawrence 13-13 last year with a fourth quarter touchdown, trails in the series which stands at 33-19-6.

This season the Jayhawks have won only against Iowa State (21-7), lost two and tied one. A week before the Kansas-Oklahoma State game the Cyclones dropped Oklahoma 21-15.

The winless Sooners also have lost to Notre Dame (19-0) and Texas (28-7). Despite their poor showings, either Oklahoma or Kansas could become a contender in the Big Eight conference race. Each has one conference loss.

The Jayhawks, coached by former Oklahoma player Jack Mitchell, are favored over Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners. One reason is the fleet backfield, mainly John Hadl and Curtis McClintock—both voted on the 1960 Oklahoma all-opponent teams.

FANNING PHILLY
PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Pancho Herrera of the Philadelphia Phillies broke Vince DiMaggio's 12-year National League record in 1960 when he struck out 136 times.

Largest daily double payoff in New York state's history was $4,313.90 when Buddie Bones and Junction City scored Aug. 27, 1945 in the "Saratoga at Belmont" meeting.

Wildcat Tilt Vital To Bengal Tigers

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The tenth-ranked Louisiana State Tigers meet improving Kentucky Saturday night in a Southeastern Conference football game vital to both teams.

The Tigers, with a 3-1 overall record, are 1-0 in the SEC with a surprise 10-0 victory over Georgia Tech. Kentucky, 2-2 for the season, is 1-1 in the conference, having edged Auburn 14-12 after dropping a 20-6 decision to powerful Mississippi.

LSU's late may depend upon how well coach Paul Dietzel has improved the Tiger's pass defense to cope with the aerial attack of Kentucky's talented quarterback, Jerry Woodrum.

LSU yielded two touchdowns to Rice, the only one to beat the Tigers this season, and Texas A&M scored one via the air.

A crowd of 65,000 was expected in Tiger Stadium for the 8 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Calhoun Quintet Defeats Chatham By 52-24 Margin

CALHOUN, La. (Special) — Paul Thompson and Billy Ross Crawford hooped 14 and 12 points respectively in leading the Calhoun varsity basketball team to a 52-24 conquest of Chatham High here last night. Walker was high scorer for Chatham with 13.

The Chatham "B" boys took a 31-20 win in the curtain-raiser with Rickey Conn leading the way with 11 points. Ernest Turner hooped 11 for Calhoun.

Coach Jerry Lovett takes his Calhoun cats to Ringgold next Friday and Saturday nights for a date with Castor on Friday and Ringgold on Saturday. Both games will be played in Ringgold.

32 Tech Gridders Will Be At Home

RUSTON, La., (Special) — A large number of Louisiana Tech's football players will be performing before the home folks Saturday night when the Bulldogs take on Northwestern State in the annual state fair game in Shreveport.

Thirty-two members of the Tech squad are from the Shreveport area, seven of them from Shreveport and Bossier City.

Tech began to ease up in practice sessions earlier in the week as Coach Joe Aillet gives his players time to recuperate from three straight hard battles before meeting the Demons. Tech has several players ailing but expected to see action this weekend.

Techsters from Shreveport and Bossier City include halfbacks Paul Labene and Jack Odum, guards Pat Collins, Richard Enis, and Ray Burroughs, and tackles Jim Willis and David Bass. All are from Shreveport except Bossier's Enis.

Others from the Shreveport area include quarterbacks Pat Shows of Ruston, Johnny Hudson of Minden and Bill Weaver of Vivian; halfbacks Bob Ashley of Minden, Andy Farless, Ken Tidwell, and Corky Corkern, all of

Sullivan In First Despite Earthquakes

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Six earthquakes jolted the Mesa Verde Country Club course Friday during the second round of the $20,000 Orange County Open Tournament but they didn't shake Buddy Sullivan out of first place.

Sullivan, from Yuba City, Calif., added a one-over-par 72 to his opening round of 64 for a 36-hole total of 136, six under par for the distance. That gave him a one-stroke margin over two tournament freshmen, Jerry Steelsmith of Glendale, Calif., and Bob Harrison of Pacific Palisades, Calif., and veteran Jim Ferrier of Burbank, Calif.

Chuch Rotar of San Bernardino got an extra heavy jolt from the quakes. His shot on the 205-yard water hole, par 3, 18th was just off the green on a slight incline and it appeared he would make an easy par three. As he was walking toward the ball there was a sharp quake and the ball moved from its resting spot and rolled backward into the water. Rotar had to go back 50 yards across the lake, replay the shot with a 2-shot penalty and finish with a triple bogey 6.

Harrison, 23, had taken over the lead from Sullivan after 27 holes when he shot a sizzling 4-under-par 32 for his first nine. He birdied the first three holes and four out of the first five. But on the back side he dove to a 4-over 39. He shot 71 Friday to go with his opening 76.

Steelsmith, tall, 26-year-old redhead, and Ferrier, who was playing golf before either of these two were born, added 68s today to their first round 68s.

At 138 were amateur Dennis Murphy of Huntington Beach, Calif., Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., Cecil Harris of Anaheim, Calif., Jacky Cupit of Longview, Tex., and Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex.

Defending champion Bill Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., shot a 68 for a 140 total.

UNBEATEN IN SEC

Wildcat Tilt Vital To Bengal Tigers

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The tenth-ranked Louisiana State Tigers meet improving Kentucky Saturday night in a Southeastern Conference football game vital to both teams.

The Tigers, with a 3-1 overall record, are 1-0 in the SEC with a surprise 10-0 victory over Georgia Tech. Kentucky, 2-2 for the season, edged Auburn 14-12 after dropping a 20-6 decision to powerful Mississippi.

LSU's fate may depend upon how well coach Paul Dietzel has improved the Tigers' pass defense to cope with the aerial attack of Kentucky's talented quarterback Jerry Woodrum.

LSU yielded two touchdowns to Rice, the only one to beat the Tigers this season, and Texas A&M scored one via the air.

Soviets Set Off Powerful New Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The Soviet Union fired off another nuclear test Friday, the 21st to be announced by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC announcement said the test blast had a force of several megatons. A megaton is the equivalent of a million tons of TNT.

The brief announcement said the newest blast was set off in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya, in the arctic region.

The text of the announcement announced this afternoon that the Soviet Union conducted a nuclear detonation in the atmosphere earlier today. The detonation occurred in the vicinity of Novaya Zemlya and had a yield of several megatons.

The blast had been reported earlier Friday from Japan and Sweden.

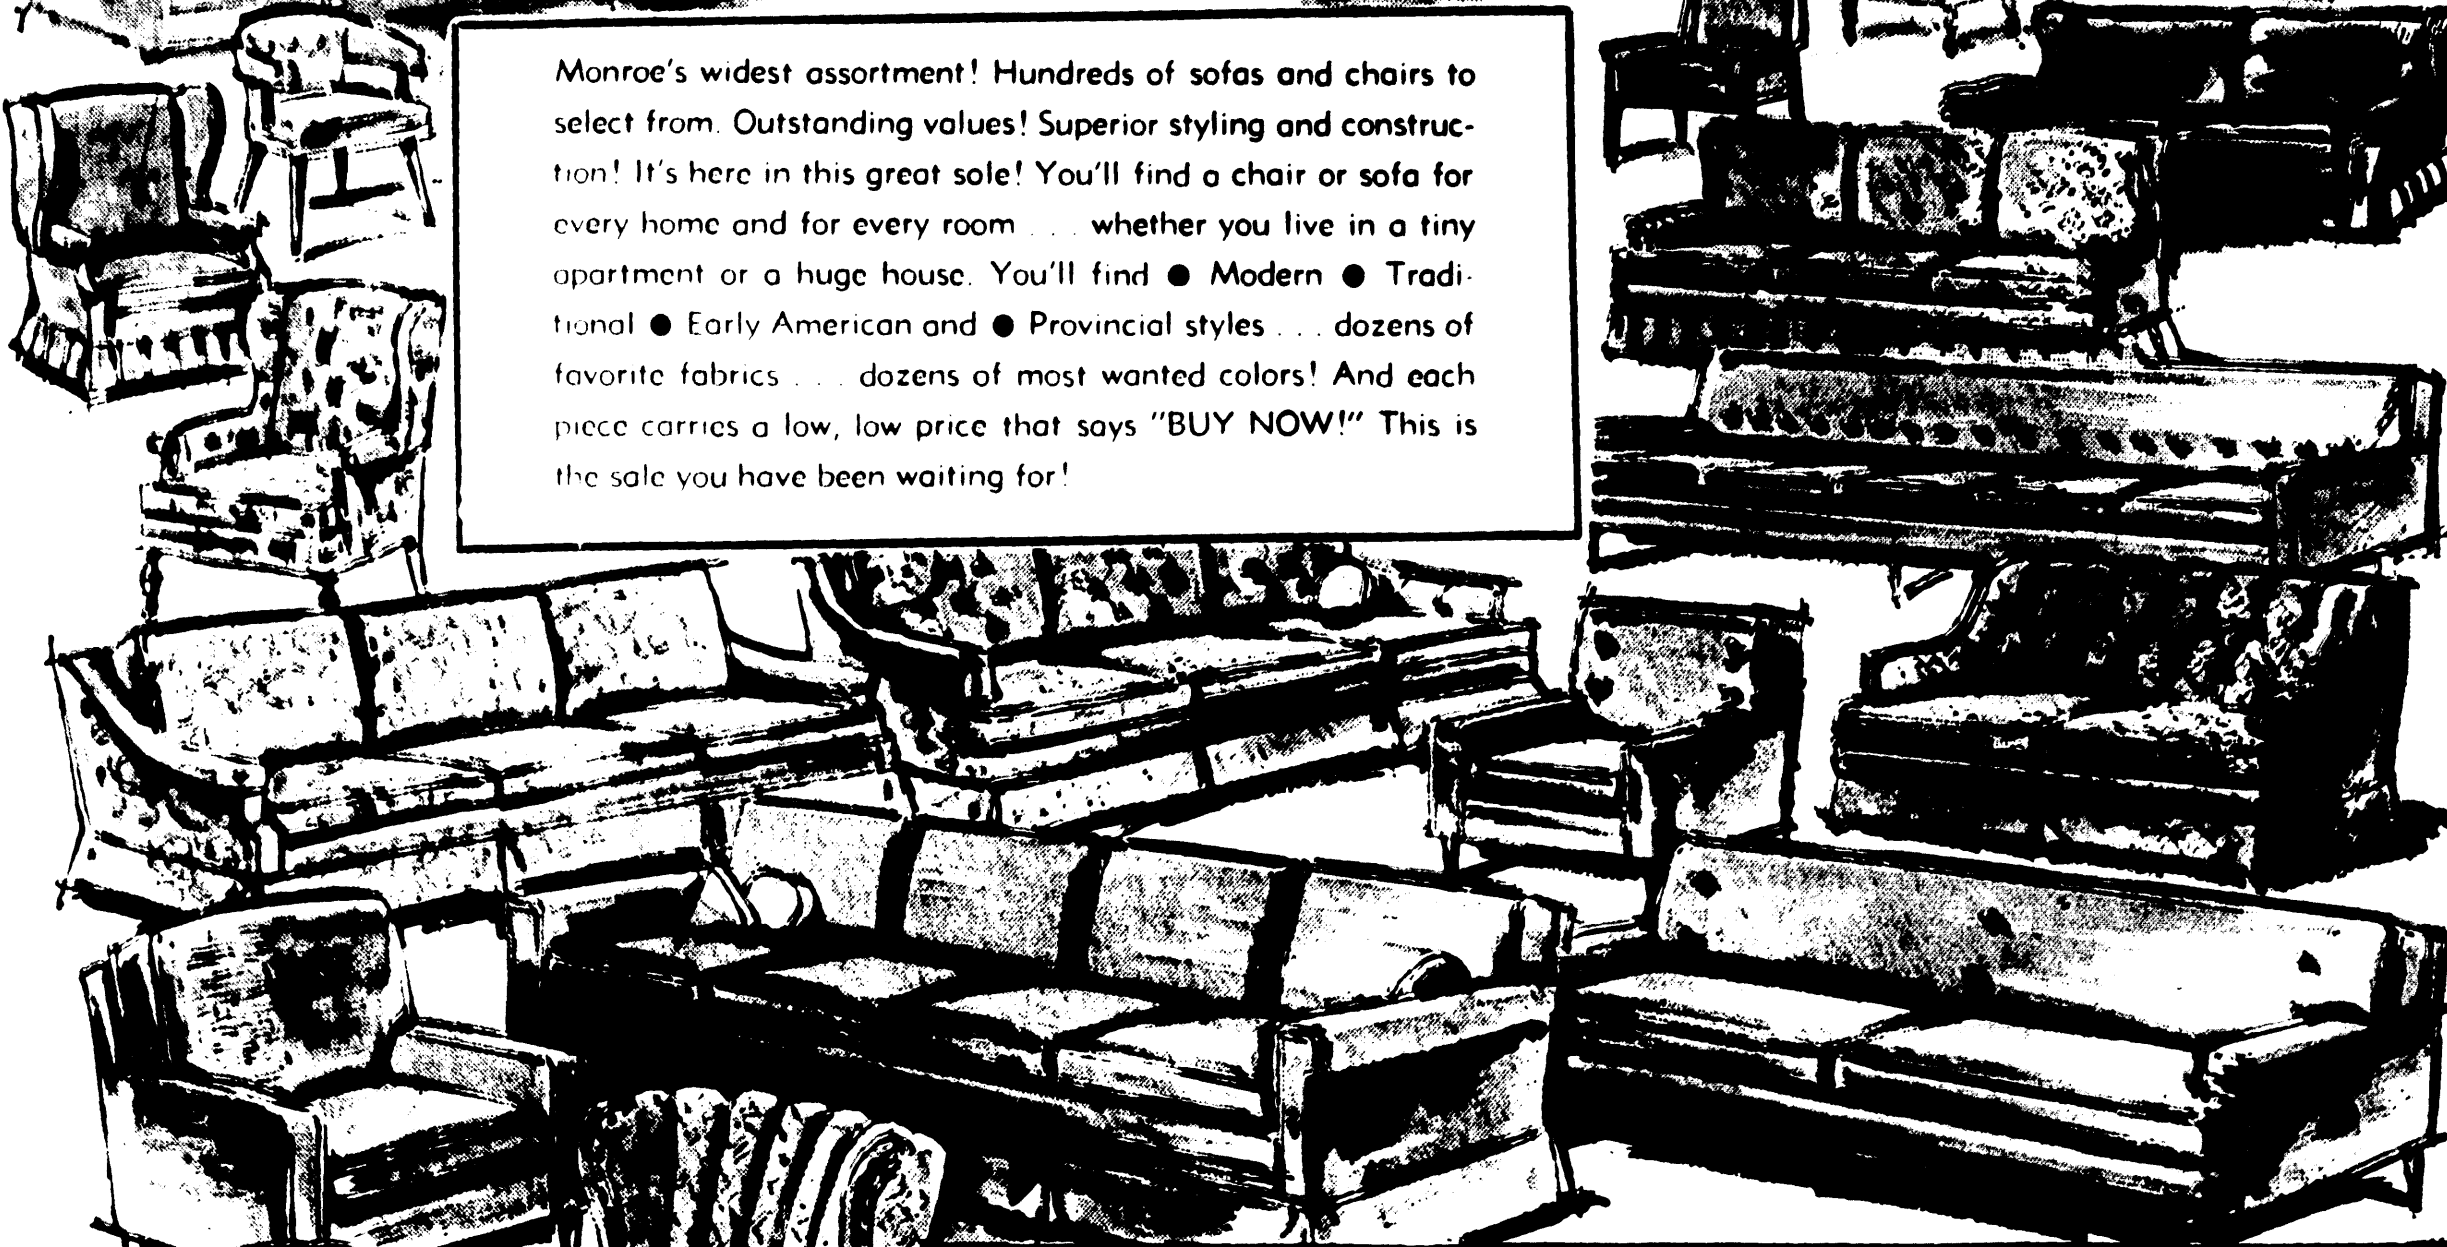

Although this was the 21st Soviet test announced by the AEC since Sept. 1, President Kennedy indicated last week that this country has indications of several others it has not announced.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a guy who is in the service. His name is Paul. We saw each other only once, but I feel like I've known him all my life. We have corresponded for three months, and he proposed to me by mail.

Paul is stationed in a southern state, but his home is up north. He might have to go overseas, and he wants to get engaged before he goes. Here is our plan: Paul will be flying north next week. He has to change planes in St. Louis. He wants me to come to the airport. He says he will be on the ground long enough to put the ring on my finger and kiss me. I am afraid to tell my mother about this kind of engagement as she might think we are crazy. I am 18 and Paul is 20. Can you advise me? —PAUL'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: If it's really love, it will last until Paul can meet your parents and you, his. Give yourselves a chance to know each other better before rushing into a lifetime contract. Your plans for a split-second engagement sound like a Mack Sennett comedy.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 18 I married a boy I was crazy about. Soon afterwards I found out he was "already" married. I was pregnant by that time, so I had my baby in a home for unwed mothers. I kept my baby, and gave him his father's real name.

I have remarried, and now my husband wants to adopt my child. He doesn't want the boy ever to know that he is not his real father. Is this wise? I'm afraid some of my nosy relatives will tell the boy some day because they all know it. Should we take a chance and trust to luck? The baby is only 14 months old.—NEEDS AN ANSWER

DEAR NEEDS: Don't trust to luck. Tell your boy the truth as soon as he is able to understand. It will be much less painful than telling a lie which might be found out later.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Teaching the child to feed himself requires patience and ingenuity, regardless of his age and willingness or reluctance to make the effort.

However, the older child is usually less inclined to try if he never has been allowed to do so when he was younger.

Mrs. B. W. writes: "My son is almost 2½ years old, has a good diet and weighs 34 pounds. Recently I took him to a pediatrician who told me that he must feed himself now. She told me to serve minute quantities of food, eat with him and give him nothing between meals. I tried her advice for one day and would have tried it longer, but he wouldn't touch a thing.

"He does not swallow meat well and was a vomiter from birth to 20 months. I have had to distract him in order to feed him for fear he would gag or cry so much that he would make himself sick. I'll have to admit I force him many times. Now the doctor tells me to starve him into feeding himself, and I just do not have the heart."

"Will a child gradually pick this up himself? I notice he will munch on corn on the cob or something he can handle if the mood strikes him. If he starts to feed himself, I let him and help him along while I cook. If not, I feed him myself—the whole meal. At the moment he is being given an appetite and iron supplement."

with two handles which he can grasp.

You already have discovered that he will eat with his fingers, so while he is gradually learning to use utensils give him a variety of finger foods. These include small, whole vegetables, bit-size bits of fruit and meat, potato chips, quartered sandwiches, bacon, hard-boiled eggs and cold cereals (that can be eaten like pop corn).

Certainly these, plus milk, provide him with all the nourishment he needs. Letting him eat with his fingers will not prevent him learning to use the utensils, but only teach him to do for himself until he has mastered that skill.

Appetites tend to taper off at this age, but never force him to eat. He should learn to enjoy eating because he likes food. He may overdo it on one food this week and another next week. Do not stop feeding him so abruptly, but gradually lessen his dependence on you. Soon he should be saying, "No, let me do it."

Answer

No child can be expected to start feeding himself overnight. I doubt if the doctor meant you to "starve" him, but merely to allow him to get a little hungry. You should let him hold the spoon or fork while you fill it and gently guide it into his mouth. If he has not learned to hold a glass, get a plastic, self-help cup

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: In June I was in a car accident with three other teenagers. It wasn't Fred's fault (he's my boy friend). A 72-year-old man came up on the wrong side of a hill with no lights and hit us head-on. It was a miracle that no one was seriously injured.

My mother has been very nervous since then and has refused to let me ride in a car with Fred. I'm almost 17 and Fred is 18. Mom and Dad drive us as much as we want to go and pick us up. Fred went along with this for quite a while but last night he said "No more chauffeuring." I'm afraid he'll stop dating me. Please help me, Ann, I'm miserable. —DOLLY

Dear Dolly: Most parents worry about teenagers in cars and your mother's concern is of course intensified by the accident. But parents must realize that growing up and living involves risks. All any of us can do is exercise a reasonable amount of caution.

It is unfair to children when parental anxiety casts a shadow over their lives and hobbles them. Ask your mother to go for a ride with Fred at the wheel. Perhaps when she sees that he is a careful driver she'll relax and allow you normal privileges.

Dear Ann: My husband is a perfectly nice guy. He doesn't run around or have any bad habits. I think I'd gladly trade a bad habit for his one big fault.

He thinks he's a great storyteller. I want to crawl under the chair when he starts to tell his worn-out jokes. To begin with, he can't remember stories and he mixes up two or three in the telling. He forgets punch lines, butchers dialects and I'm sure he offends people. He stretches the simplest story until you wonder if he's trying for a filibuster record.

I hate to see him make a fool of himself, and I've asked him to quit after one or two. But he says "People love it."

Frankly, I think the situation is hopeless. If you can give me some advice I'd be grateful. —GRITTING TEETH

Dear Gritting: Welcome to The Club. One of the noblest sororities of all is the group of wives who sit silently-smiling, of course—while their husbands mutilate stories.

Just keep gritting your teeth. Old Girl—and see your dentist twice a year.

Dear Ann Landers: When I was a small child my mother raised a beautiful flower called "the nicotiana plant." It grew like a petunia but blossomed only at dusk and it had a lovely fragrance which scented the evening air.

I have searched for many years for this plant, but without success. I know your column is not a garden cover, but you "do" deal with all sorts of problems, and it seems your aim is to make people happy. I would certainly appreciate it if you could help me locate this plant. Or perhaps one of your readers will know it by another name. Thank you. —HARRIETT

Dear Harriett: I don't know a ham-hock from a hollyhock, but I'm printing your letter in the hope that someone who reads it can come to your rescue. Front and center flower lovers! And "please," don't send me seeds, just the information.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for "Ann Landers' book," "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Spinster Cat

Must Pay Tax

On Trust Fund

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Kitty, 13, a spinster cat, will have to pay an inheritance tax of $500 on a trust fund of $10,000.

Atty. Gen. Thomas F. Eagleton ruled Thursday the trust established by the late Eugene A. Hecker is subject to Missouri's tax.

Care of the cat from Ferguson, Mo., can be financed from principal or interest on the trust.

When Kitty dies, the fund, if any is left, must be turned over to Harvard University.

Under Hecker's will, the university must set up a scholarship fund in its medical school for worthy and needy students. Hecker was a Harvard graduate.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Teaching the child to feed himself requires patience and ingenuity, regardless of his age and willingness or reluctance to make the effort.

However, the older child is usually less inclined to try if he never has been allowed to do so when he was younger.

Mrs. B. W. writes: "My son is almost 2½ years old, has a good diet and weighs 34 pounds. Recently I took him to a pediatrician who told me that he must feed himself now. She told me to serve minute quantities of food, eat with him and give him nothing between meals. I tried her advice for one day and would have tried it longer, but he wouldn't touch a thing. "He does not swallow meat well and was a vomiter from birth to 20 months. I have had to distract him in order to feed him for fear he would gag or cry so much that he would make himself sick. I'll have to admit I force him many times. Now the doctor tells me to starve him into feeding himself, and I just do not have the heart."

"Will a child gradually pick this up himself? I notice he will munch on corn on the cob or something he can handle if the mood strikes him. If he starts to feed himself, I let him and help him along while I cook. If not, I feed him myself—the whole meal. At the moment he is being given an appetite and iron supplement."

Answer

No child can be expected to start feeding himself overnight. I doubt if the doctor meant you to "starve" him, but merely to allow him to get a little hungry. You should let him hold the spoon or fork while you fill it and gently guide it into his mouth. If he has not learned to hold a glass, get a plastic, self-help cup with two handles which he can grasp.

You already have discovered that he will eat with his fingers, so while he is gradually learning to use utensils give him a variety of finger foods. These include small, whole vegetables, bit-size bits of fruit and meat, potato chips, quartered sandwiches, bacon, hard-boiled eggs and cold cereals (that can be eaten like pop corn).

Certainly these, plus milk, provide him with all the nourishment he needs. Letting him eat with his fingers will not prevent him learning to use the utensils, but only teach him to do for himself until he has mastered that skill.

Appetites tend to taper off at this age, but never force him to eat. He should learn to enjoy eating because he likes food. He may overdo it on one food this week and another next week. Do not stop feeding him so abruptly, but gradually lessen his dependence on you. Soon he should be saying, "No, let me do it."

It's simple — baby must be well-nourished in order to grow at his proper rate. To know his needs and how to satisfy them, read the booklet, "All About Feeding" — from six months to two years. To obtain it, send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: In June I was in a car accident with three other teenagers. It wasn't Fred's fault (he's my boy friend). A 72-year-old man came up on the wrong side of a hill with no lights and hit us head-on. It was a miracle that no one was seriously injured.

My mother has been very nervous since then and has refused to let me ride in a car with Fred. I'm almost 17 and Fred is 18. Mom and Dad drive us any place we want to go and pick us up. Fred went along with this for quite a while but last night he said "No more chauffeuring." I'm afraid he'll stop dating me. Please help me, Ann, I'm miserable. —DOLLY

Dear Dolly: Most parents worry about teenagers in cars and your mother's concern is of course intensified by the accident. But parents must realize that growing up and living involves risks. All any of us can do is exercise a reasonable amount of caution.

It is unfair to children when parental anxiety casts a shadow over their lives and hobbles them. Ask your mother to go for a ride with Fred at the wheel. Perhaps when she sees that he is a careful driver she'll relax and allow you normal privileges.

Dear Ann: My husband is a perfectly nice guy. He doesn't run around or have any bad habits. I think I'd gladly trade a bad habit for his one big fault.

He thinks he's a great story-teller. I want to crawl under the chair when he starts to tell his worn-out jokes. To begin with, he can't remember stories and he mixes up two or three in the telling. He forgets punch lines, butchers dialects and I'm sure he offends people. He stretches the simplest story until you wonder if he's trying for a filibuster record.

I hate to see him make a fool of himself, and I've asked him to quit after one or two. But he says "People love it."

Frankly, I think the situation is hopeless. If you can give me some advice I'd be grateful. —GRITTING TEETH

Dear Gritting: Welcome to The Club. One of the noblest sororities of all is the group of wives who sit silently—smiling, of course—while their husbands mutilate stories.

Just keep gritting your teeth. Old Girl—and see your dentist twice a year.

Dear Ann Landers: When I was a small child my mother raised a beautiful flower called "the nicotine plant." It grew like a petunia but blossomed only at dusk and it had a lovely fragrance which scented the evening air.

I have searched for many years for this plant, but without success. I know your column is not a garden cover, but you "do" deal with all sorts of problems, and it seems your aim is to make people happy. I would certainly appreciate it if you could help me locate this plant. Or perhaps one of your readers will know it by another name. Thank you. —HARRIETT

Dear Harriett: I don't know a ham-hock from a hollyhock, but I'm printing your letter in the hope that someone who reads it can come to your rescue. Front and center flower lovers! And "please," don't send me seeds, just the information.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Spinster Cat

Must Pay Tax

On Trust Fund

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Kitty, 13, a spinster cat, will have to pay an inheritance tax of $500 on a trust fund of $10,000.

Atty. Gen. Thomas F. Eagleton ruled Thursday the trust established by the late Eugene A. Hecker is subject to Missouri's tax.

Care of the cat from Ferguson, Mo., can be financed from principal or interest on the trust.

When Kitty dies, the fund, if any is left, must be turned over to Harvard University. Under Hecker's will, the university must set up a scholarship fund in its medical school for worthy and needy students. Hecker was a Harvard graduate.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

SNUFF THERAPY
Snuff is not medicine but it has been used to treat certain diseases. Dr. Albert P. Seltzer, for example, tried unsuccessfully to remove a bead from the nose of a 7 year old girl. Every time he got near the object, the youngster squirmed or jerked the head only to push the bead farther into the nasal cavity. The physician was about to take the girl to the operating room when he thought of snuff. A small portion was put into the nose and after a few rapid sharp sneezes, out popped the bead.

There are other ways to induce sneezing but snuff has the added advantage of stimulating the nose to run. The Philadelphia nose and throat specialist used this method to advantage when consulted by a man with an abnormally dry nose due to atrophic rhinitis.

A pinch of snuff was blown into the passageway. Within a few minutes, sneezing and a deluge of mucus appeared. It demonstrated that the membranes in this case were capable of becoming moist if stimulated to do so.

Sneezing usually occurs when the nerves in the nose are irritated or stimulated. It does not have any special significance but many people say "gesundheit," meaning good health to you, whenever someone sneezes.

Sneezing may be a good omen when the individual is successful in eliminating a foreign substance but a bad one for those coming down with hay fever. A copious flow of mucus usually precedes the sneeze and the combination helps to clean out the passageways.

Almost all mammals sneeze, including babies on emerging at birth. The cleansing action is confined to the nose; it does not purge the brain, as ancient believed.

SMOKING AND GLAUCOMA
Mrs. S. G. writes: I have had glaucoma for over a year but still have 20-20 vision. Besides using the drops at night, my doctor advised me to give up coffee, tea, and cola drinks, as well as cigarettes. I find it more and more difficult to do without smoking and wonder if half a pack a day would do any harm.

REPLY
Glaucoma is a serious eye disorder. Why tamper with a plan of treatment that has worked so well? All stimulants, including tobacco, should be avoided.

BLADDER CAPACITY
H. R. writes: What is the capacity of the average adult bladder?

REPLY
This varies greatly but the average normal adult bladder can hold up to a pint.

RASH FROM PILLS
Mrs. M. writes: Can rash develop from taking thyroid pills?

REPLY
Not to my knowledge but there are exceptions to every rule.

CRACKLING KNEES
Mrs. L. E. writes: I'm 75 years old and when I bend my knees there is a cracking noise. Can I do anything to benefit this condition?

REPLY
This usually is a sign of osteoarthritis in a woman your age. There is no need for concern so long as the knees do not hurt. Avoid overactivity and frequent bending to minimize wear and tear. Apply hot applications to the knees to improve circulation.

FIRST FLIGHT
C. W. writes: I'm to take my first plane ride, and since I get seasick on ships, I wonder if I ought to take something before taking off?

REPLY
Yes, if you are this worried even though you never have been in a plane. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on motion sickness.

Today's Health Hint—
It takes an experienced cyclist to keep his wits in heavy traffic.

Educators Find Soviet Schools Behind U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Eighteen school superintendents and other educators from the United States neared the end of a tour of Soviet schools today, saying they found them behind those in America.

Orrin G. Thompson, superintendent of schools at Elgin, Ill., said Soviet schools are "25 to 30 years behind American schools in teaching technique and school texts."

Virgil M. Rogers, dean of the School of Education at Syracuse University, New York, said the Russians were at least 30 years behind the Americans in teaching methods. He said Soviet schools also trailed in laboratory facilities.

"They follow a system of lectures and not taking any examinations," said Rogers, adding that American schools go in more for student participation in discussion.

Asked if he found an explanation for how the Russians were able to get ahead in rocket technique, Rogers said: "They go in heavily for science, mathematics and languages."

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

All Americans (and I mean North Americans, because the South Americans couldn't care less) are indebted to a winsome young woman named Margery Michelmore for demonstrating the frailties of the Peace Corps.

It had to happen, but Miss Michelmore pulled off the coup in record time—far earlier in the game than even the most devout cynic could have predicted.

She knocked the whole idea of the Peace Corps into the well-known cocked hat, and she did it with one little postcard. She wrote the postcard to a fellow in Cambridge, Mass., and like the heroine of "A. T. Tisket, A. T. Tasket," on the way she lost it. She lost the postcard near the campus of the University College of Ibadan, in Nigeria, where it was promptly found, read (rather bad taste, don't you agree?), copied and circulated among 1,500 anti-American Nigerians who used it to suggest that the Peace Corps get the heck out of Nigeria because they were "agents of imperialism."

I am with the Nigerians 100 per cent, if not for the same reason. I simply think it is undignified and unworthy of a great nation for us to go where we are not wanted, and we certainly are not wanted in Nigeria. I believe we would be smarter to keep our money at home than squander it on the staggering cost of keeping 37 Americans in Nigeria to make no dent at all on a nation of 35,000,000.

As for Miss Michelmore, she is quite a study in naivete. She is described as 23 years old and a graduate "with high honors" at Smith College, a seat of learning regarded as a place for "brains" only.

What did she get her high honours for — painting on china? Don't they require the students to read at Smith College? How could she have reached the age of 23 without having read Alan Paton's "Cry the Beloved Country," Ernest Hemingway's "Green Hills of Africa," and Robert Ruark's "Something of Value," not to mention countless articles in American newspapers and magazines which would have clued her in to the fact that conditions in Africa are quite different from conditions at the Ritz Hotel in Boston.

How was she sheltered from the knowledge that Africans are not like Americans; they scar their faces, pierce their noses with orifice. Why tamper with a plan of treatment that has worked so well? All stimulants, including tobacco, should be avoided.

The most disappointing aspect of Miss Michelmore's celebrated cause was her swift capitulation to the Nigerians, once they had made a big deal out of her in-

IN FRENCH CAPITAL

Arrests Prevent Demonstrations

PARIS (UPI)—French police in bullet-proof vests arrested hundreds of Moslem Algerian women and children Friday to block a huge demonstration in which Moslem men planned to use them as living shields. Police mobilized 11,000 men to guard Paris against the threatened demonstrations. It was the biggest turnout since Moslem Algerians living in the Paris area began a series of after dark riots and demonstrations Tuesday.

Police said that by late Friday they had detained 513 women and 114 children and prevented their meeting in the heart of the capital. They were taken to social centers and other reception halls and cared for by the Red Cross.

Paris Police Prefect Maurice Papon said he had received word the Moslems planned to turn out in force Friday night behind a protective wall of women and children—a favorite tactic of the rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) in Algeria.

Three 'Quakes' Hit Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three said Dr. Charles Richter of the earthquakes centered southeast of California Institute of Technology this city jolted Los Angeles and Orange counties within 2 minutes Friday.

Other workers said the third quake swayed the City Hall tower, the federal building and the county courthouse in Los Angeles Civic Center.

The quakes hit at 11:19, 11:45 and 11:50 a.m.

The last was large enough to cause some structural damage, states.

Clay Asserts U.S. Troops 'Fighting Fit'

BERLIN (UPI)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay Friday inspected U.S. troops engaged in a mock battle for Berlin and pronounced them fighting fit.

More than half of the U.S. garrison assigned to defend West Berlin's freedom took part in the three-day war games which ended Friday.

At the same time, East Germany disclosed for the first time that Warsaw Pact armed forces are carrying out maneuvers in Poland as well as East Germany. More than 500,000 Russian, Polish, Czech, Hungarian and East German troops are reported to be participating in the massive Communist exercises.

The American war games were the biggest Allied field maneuvers in Berlin since World War II. Involved were two elite battle groups of the U.S. 6th Infantry Regiment—more than 3,000 troops backed by armor and artillery. The U.S. Berlin garrison totals around 5,500 men. Most of the training previously consisted of riot control and "combat in cities" exercises. The field maneuvers were designed to give the troops training in attack and defense tactics.

An Army helicopter Friday flew four more East German refugees from the tiny hamlet of Steinbocken which, while separated from West Berlin by one mile of Communist territory, is considered part of the U.S. sector. The total number of refugees from the hamlet now stands at 24. West Berlin police reported two youths reached West Berlin from the Communist zone during the night.

Arrests Prevent Demonstrations

PARIS (UPI) — French police in bullet-proof vests arrested hundreds of Moslem Algerian women and children Friday to block a huge demonstration in which Moslem men planned to use them as living shields. Police mobilized 11,000 men to guard Paris against the threatened demonstrations. It was the biggest turnout since Moslem Algerians living in the Paris area began a series of after dark riots and demonstrations Tuesday.

Police said that by late Friday they had detained 513 women and 118 children and prevented their massing in the heart of the capital.

They were taken to social centers and other reception halls and cared for by the Red Cross. Paris Police Prefect Maurice Paupou said he had received word the Moslems planned to turn out in force Friday night behind a protective wall of women and children—a favorite tactic of the rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) in Algeria.

On top of the Algerian demonstrations, police faced a new outbreak of night bomb attacks by right-wing supporters of the "French Algeria" cause. Three plastic charges exploded in the early hours, damaging the home of a lawyer and two shoe stores.

Diplomatic quarters teared the bitterness caused by Algerian police clashes in Paris had shoved the prospect of renewed peace talks with the rebels farther into the background.

The Algerian rebel government-in-exile charged in Tunis Friday that more than 50 Algerians were killed and hundreds injured in Paris rioting this week. An official communique said several of the dead were women. French police put the death toll at five Algerians and one French onlooker.

The FLN also said "several hundred have disappeared" and said police suppressed the Paris demonstrations with "savage brutality." The communique ended by appealing for the resumption of peace negotiations between France and the Algerian rebels.

Clay Asserts U.S. Troops 'Fighting Fit'

More than half of the U.S. garrison assigned to defend West Berlin's freedom took part in the three-day war games which ended Friday.
